BOLSHEVIKI DEFEATED BY ALLIED ARMY

Heavy fighting in the Dvina river section between Bolsheviki and allied forces Monday and Tuesday, is reported by the war office. The Bolsheviki attacked the allies on the front and flank Monday, penetrating several villages and forcing their way to the Canadian Battery positions, where they were held. American and British infantry then counter-attacked, throwing the enemy back with heavy ...es.

...e fighting was resumed Tuesday, Bolsheviki being defeated with ... casualties.

...ashington, Nov. 21—Overthrow of ...olsheviki regime in the Ukraine ...he capture of Kiev by Cossack ...s friendly to all Russian govern..., as reported today from Copen...n, opens the way, in the opinion ... officials here ,of important develoy...ments in Russia.

While no change in policy, either political or military, has been made by the United States, it is realized here that the holding of the Ukraine by forces friendly to the associated governments and decidedly hostile to the Bolsheviki opens a path directly into the heart of Russia, either for the dispatch of troops or of supplies for the relief of the demoralized civilian population.

BIGGEST MILITARY REVIEW IN CAMP'S HISTORY TO OCCUR

Chillicothe, Ohio, Nov. 21.—Next Tuesday morning Chillicothe will see the biggest military review in its history, even larger than the one given by the Eighty-third Division last spring, shortly before its departure for overseas. The entire force at Camp Sherman, between 25,000 and 26,000 men, will march in a farewell procession. The troops will leave Camp Sherman at 9 o'clock.

The review has been planned by the military authorities in order to give relatives and friends an opportunity to see the men in line and give them a rousing "send-off," as it is believed it will only be a matter of a few months before all of the soldiers will be discharged and returned to their homes.

The troops will be reviewed by General Smith and his entire staff, and business in Chillicothe will be suspended during the review.

The first of the 12,000 men to be discharged from the army will leave Camp Sherman for their homes next Saturday. Seven days will be required to complete the initial movement.

Special trains will carry most of the men to their homes, while others will take regular trains or traction cars.

The military authorities have not yet decided which of the development and training battalions will be demobilized. This cannot be done until Class A men are weeded out and transferred to permanent camp organizations. About 500 men daily will be discharged.

MEMORIAL TREES FOR DEAD SOLDIERS

Washington, Nov. 21.—"Memorial trees" for soldier dead in the world war, will be planted throughout the United States, next spring, according to plans of the American Forestry Association.

From every part of the country are coming endorsements by governors, women's clubs and other organizations.

HUN LOSSES HEAVY

Copenhagen, Nov. 21.—German casualties up to October 31 were 6,320,000, according to the Socialist newspaper Vorwaerts in Berlin.

They were divided as follows:

Killed	1,580,000
Wounded	4,000,000
Prisoners	490,000
Fate unknown	260,000

WRECKS OF ALLIED PRISONERS ARE NOW POURING INTO PARIS

By Fred S. Ferguson

Paris, Nov 22—Wrecks of released war prisoners are pouring into Paris.

The American Red Cross has responded to the emergency appeal for aid and is furnishing clothing and food to several thousand.

One American of the second divison, who was captured six months ago, was dressed in a ragged French uniform. He had not heard a word spoken in English since he was captured.

He wept at the sound of an American voice and begged for an American uniform.

A French soldier more than 50 years old, with white hair hanging down over his shoulders, collapsed from exhaustion, while on his way to an ambulance. He had been a prisoner for four years.

A frenchman captured at Maubeuge in 1914 did not know that America had entered the war until he was transfered to Belgium a month ago.

Survivors recount gripping stories of the streams of half starved, dying men, coming back along the roads, buoyed up solely by their visions of home.

TELEGRAPH EMPLOYES TO GET VACATIONS

Washington, Nov. 21.—All telegraph systems now under government control shall be operated as one, effective Dec. 1, Postmaster General Burleson ruled today.

This action was taken, Burleson explained "in order that the telegraph facilities may be used to the fullest extent and the transaction of messages expedited."

All offices will then "accept for transmission all classes of messages now accepted by any one of them at the prescribed rates."

At the same time Burleson ordered that after Jan. 1, all telegraph employes shall receive annual vacations with full pay.

Those in the service continuously for two years or more, will be granted two weeks' vacation. Those in the service continuously for one year, will get one week's vacation.

Vacations must be taken when assigned.

SHIPPING LOSSES IN OCTOBER SMALL

London, Nov. 21.—The smallest shipping losses through submarine warfare, during the war, were recorded during October.

During that month, 83,952 tons of British, and 93,583 tons of allied and neutral shipping were destroyed.

LAZARUS ACQUITTED.

New York, Nov. 21.—Harry Lazarus, army pail boat manufacturer, has been acquitted in the federal district court here on a charge of bribery.

Th's picture, taken in Ostend ... from German troops by the allies, shows what ... of the railway station. The station was new at the beginning of the war. It was slightly damaged by the allies in their bombardment of the city and the Germans demolished it mainly to get the iron and steel to carry away with them for their own use.

"I'D HATE TO SEE YOU FIGHT."

Dayton, O., Nov. 21.—Sergeant R. F. Eddy, 16th engineers, said in a letter received by his father, Frank M. Eddy, that a football game between the engineers and the medical corps, recently played in France, was one of the wickedest he had ever witnessed. Both sides were out for blood and the fact that no one was injured he attributed to the hardened condition of the players, seasoned to many months of severe training.

About five thousand French soldiers witnessed the game, and afterward one Poilu said to Sergeant Eddy: "If that is what you Yankees call play, I'd hate to see you fight."—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

PLANS FOR FLOATING NEW SECURITIES MADE

Washington, Nov. 21.—Secretary McAdoo and members of the capital issues committee have agreed that committee should continue indefinitely its function of supervising proposed issues of stocks and bonds for capital purposes as a measure of rationing capital in preparation for the future war loans. At the same time it became known that the treasury plans tentatively to float about $8,000,000,000 more securities during 1919, and hopes to get at least $2,000,000,000 of this sum from war savings.

THIRTY EIGHT STATES OVER TOP IN DRIVE

New York, Nov. 21.—National United War Work Campaign Headquarters was without complete returns today as to the total sum contributed to the fund, but officials were confident that the nation had gone over the top with a large over-subscription.

The latest national total that headquarters had was $158,565,058, which was given out yesterday.

Hundreds of subscriptions have come in since that time and it is believed the goal has been passed.

Thirty-eight states are over the top.

RESTRICTIONS REMOVED.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Postmaster General Burleson today removed restrictions recently placed on telephone companies which limited extensions and betterments to imperative and unavoidable work, to meet war requirements.

AMERICAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION IS NOW ON SOIL OF FOUR COUNTRIES

With the Americans Advancing with Rhine, Nov. 20.—(Night)—American army of occupation is now standing on the soil of four countries, France, Belgium, Luxemburg and German Lorraine.

Today's advance resulted in the occupation of a score of villages and towns. We reached Fontoy and Vitry, in Lorraine, the latter town being only ten miles north of Metz. Further to the left Americans entered the neutual Duchy of Luxemburg, passing through Esch. American outposts are now only a few miles from the city of Luxemburg. The capital is gaily decorated with flags; the people expectantly awaiting the entry of the Americans.

The mayor of Luxemburg crossed the line in an automobile and paid his respects to General Pershing at Longuyon, which is now his headquarters.

Michigan and Wisconsin troops, which led the way into Luxemburg received an ovation along every foot of their march.

In German Lorraine, the Americans were welcomed by the inhabitants of French extraction. Those of German descent looked on sullenly.

The impotent town of Arlon, in Belgium, remembering America's food and relief work throughout the war gave our troops an extraordinarily warm greeting.

It was not uncommon to see dough boys carrying one or two children with chattering French or German girls and boys walking alongside.

The Germans left some staff officers to arrange for handing over the materials left at Longuyon. This included 49 locomotives, 300 guns and thousands of rifles.

The roads near the Luxemburg frontier are lined with surrendered cannon.

OWNERSHIP BY GOVERNMENT IS FAVORED

Washington, Nov. 21.—Resolution committing the senate to government ownership of all public utilities and of "natural agencies for the production of fuel," was introduced today by Senator Lewis, Democratic whip.

"It is the expression of the senate," said the resolution, "that the policy of the United States government for the future,, should be that of government ownership of interstate railroads, telegraphs, telephones and all national lines of communication, necessary to complete postal and telegraphic service to the citizens of the nation.

"The government should possess and own all natural agencies for the production of fuel produced in the land and created as the result of natural agencies. It shall construct and own ships and agencies of water transportation necessary for merchant marines."

PRESENT SESSION OF CONGRESS TO CLOSE THURSDAY

Washington, Nov. 21—Congress today agreed to windup its long session session and adjourn at 5 o'clock.

The concurrent resolution, adopted unanimously by the house, met with considerable opposition in the senate, where on the insistence of some members it was referred to the appropriations committee.

COL. ROOSEVELT REPLIES TO NOTE

Paris, Nov. 21.—Henry Rouselle, vice-president of the municipal council of Paris, has made public the following message received from Colonel Roosevelt, replying to a cablegram of condolence on the death of Lieutenant Quenten Roosevelt.

"I am profoundly touched by the cablegram you sent me in the name of the municipal council of Paris. I thank you for your sympathy. The death of our son is a bitter affliction, but this affliction would have been more bitter if our boy had not had an ardent desire to face death for such a noble cause. You will not forget that he was given the name of a French ancestor who left France 225 years ago."

BELGIANS RAPIDLY ARE RE-OCCUPYING THEIR COUNTRY

London, Nov. 21.—The Belgians rapidly carrying out the re-occupation of their country, have advanced more than fifty miles from the lines held by them when the armistice was signed. They have entered Turnhout, 24 miles northeast and Herenthals, 18 miles east of Antwerp.

Both the Americans and the British have advanced about thirty miles, while the French have penetrated forty miles into former German territory, occupying Saarbrucken.

The general line of the allied advance apparently is as follows:

Turnhout, Herenthals, Antwerp, Brussels, Jemeppe, Givet, Wancennes, Longlier L' Eglise, Habay-La-Vielle, Arlon, Esch, Vitry, St. Avold, Kocbern, Gorbach, Saarbrucken, Zabern, Obernay, Neubreisach, and the line of the Rhine to the Swiss border.

GERMAN NAVY IS NOW IN HANDS OF THE ALLIED FLEET

London, Nov. 21—(12:30 p. m.)—The German fleet has surrendered to the Grand fleet, the British admiralty announced today.

The American battle squadron and French cruisers and destroyers participated in the ceremony.

The German high-seas fleet, comprising ten dreadnoughts, six battle cruisers, ten light cruisers, and a number of destroyers, was to meet the allied fleet in the North Sea, off the English coast, for the formal ceremony of surrender.

According to plans, the German warships were to pass down a long lane of allied craft. The surrender was to be received personally by Admiral Beatty, commander of the British Grand Fleet. Admiral Rodman is the American commander.

Four hundred allied vessels, the biggest fleet ever assembled, are reported to have met the Germans. The fleet included five American dreadnaughts.

The surrender is understood to have taken place at a point about 60 miles east of May Isle.

The German fleet followed the prescribed plan in surrendering, with the exception of one ship, which is now enroute.

The following German warships, under the terms of the armistice were expected to comprise the fleet turned over to the allies:

Dreadnoughts.

Name	Tonnage
Bayern	28,000
Konig	25,800
Grosser Kerfurst	25,800
Kron Prinz	25,800
Markgraf	25,800
Kaiser	24,700
Kaiserin	24,700
Fred'd Der Grosse	24,700
Konig Albert	24,700
Prinz Regent Luitpold	24,700

Battle Cruisers.

Hindenburg	27,600
Bismarck	27,600
Derfflinger	26,600
Seydlitz	25,000
Moltke	23,000
Von Der Tann	19,400

Light Cruisers.

Emden	5,400
Frankfurt	5,400
Bremese	4,000
Brummer	4,000

Four others.

Fifty destroyers and all the German submarines are also to be turned over to the allies.

The warships surrendered today carried 538 heavy guns and much small armament.

PRIORITY RATING CANCELLED

Washington, Nov. 21—Priority ratings, except those for the navy, the emergency fleet corporations, railroads, telegraphs and telephone companies, have been cancelled, the priorities division of the war industries board announced today.

KING AND QUEEN TO MAKE FORMAL ENTRY TO BRUSSELS

Paris, Nov. 21.—King Albert and Queen Elizabeth will make their formal entry into Brussels tomorrow, a Bruges dispatch to L'Information stated today.

The Belgian government was transferred from Bruges to Brussels today.

VERSAILLES IS MAKING TOILET FOR PEACE CONFERENCE

Paris, Nov. 21.—While Versailles is making its toilet for the peace congress, the problem of secrecy or no secrecy, censorship or no censorship is taking on great importance.

Senator Borah's statement that everything must be done under the eyes of the public is receiving such comment, especially it is understood that President Wilson has the same sentiments.

It is pointed out that the American censorship has been abolished and the British newspapers are permitted to publish what is not allowed in France. It is now urged that there be an inter-allied agreement concerning what shall be published about the peace negotiations. Public opinion here generally inclines toward secrecy, on the ground that the Germans will exploit to the fullest extent the slightest lack of harmony. However, many declare the Wilsonian policy of open diplomacy ought to begin at Versailles.

HUNGARAY AGREES ON NAME

Budapest, Hungary, Nov. 21.—The government has decided that the official title be the "Huganian People's Republic."

PREPARATION FOR EXPANSION OF BUSINESS IS PROBLEM OF THE U. S.

New York, Nov. 21.—"Preparation for great expansion of business at home and abroad is the present problem of the United States," Allen Walker, manager of the foreign department of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce said today.

To insure this expansion abroad, Walker emphasized the necessity for the United States industrialists to maintain the same spirit of unselfish co-operation that marked America's participation in the war rather than go back to the old methods of individualism.

Because of the world-wide demand for what the U. S. can produce, he said, there will not be a curtailment of manufacturing or unemployment problem due to the end of the war.

The factories now turning out war orders will be equipped as never before to compete with foreign producers and will require not alone what labor they now employ, but will need more help as our world trade grows.

TOTAL SUBSCRIPTION TO THE FOURTH LOAN $6,989,047,000

Washington, November 21.—Total subscriptions to the fourth liberty loan were $6,989,047,000, the Treasury Department announced after final tabulations had been completed. The over subscription of $989,047,000 was 16.48 per cent.

Every Federal district exceeded its allotted quota.

This makes the fourth liberty loan by far the greatest war loan ever floated by this or any other Government.

For the fourth consecutive time in the last 18 months the American people have given more than the Government asked to finance the war program. Including the four liberty loans and war savings, the nation has raised $17,852,000,000 in popular loans and this does not take into consideration oversubscriptions which were not accepted.

Reports by districts arranged in order of their oversubscription percentages, are as follows:

District	Subscriptions	Pct.
Boston	$632,221,850	126.4
Richmond	352,688,200	126.6
Philadelphia	598,763,650	119.7
Cleveland	702,050,800	117
Dallas	145,944,450	116.8

ACTION IS TAKEN ABOUT REMOVAL OF XENIA SEMINARY

The Second Synod of the United Presbyterian church, at its meeting in Dayton, Wednesday, took action about Xenia Theological Seminary, which will be of interest to many people of this county.

The General Assembly, which met in Pittsburgh, last May, passed by a small majority a recommendation to the Synods having control respectively of the Pittsburg and Xenia Seminaries that they take into consideration the union of the two.

While the Assembly said nothing about where the united seminary should be located, of course everyone knows. According to the constitution of Xenia Seminary the Second Synod (Indiana and Western Ohio) has the final voice in any proposed change of location.

The Synod yesterday in effect declined to take steps toward the proposed union, because it is believed that at the opening of the great reconstruction period the United Presbyterian Church should not decrease the number of its agencies for furnishing trained men, and that the return of peace will mean increased seminary attendance. By another resolution the Synod expressed its willingness to consider any proposition offering promise of a larger usefulness for Xenia Seminary.

Steps were also taken looking toward a possible union of Xenia Seminary with Erskine Seminary of the Associate Reformed Church of the South, which seminary is located at Due West, S. C. In this case, there would probably be a removal to some western city. The merger of seminaries just mentioned is incidental to a possible union of the Associate Reformed Church South, with the United Presbyterian Church, a union desired by many in both churches for a long time, and now again widely spoken of with hope and longing.

Mr. Ollie Smith, of South Detroit street, mashed his thumb on his left hand Thursday morning while working in the yards of the Pennsylvania railroad, where he is employed. Dr. Spahr dressed the injury.

SAYS THIS CURED HIS LUNG TROUBLE

Mr. Morgan passes insurance examinations now, and feels perfectly well.

"In 1908, my lungs became so badly affected I had to give up my work. I coughed all the time and finally had hemorrhages twice a day. My lungs and shoulders ached so I could hardly live. Two physicians told me I had consumption, said they could do no good, and advised me to change climate.

"Finally a friend gave me a bottle of Milks Emulsion. It did me so much good that I continued taking it, and in 4 months it cured me sound as a dollar.

"My lungs are now as strong as ever, I weigh 147 pounds, which is more than I ever weighed before. I work all the time, can expand my chest six inches, and am able to pass lodge and insurance examinations without any trouble." —Otto Morgan, 420 Pearl St., Terre Haute, Ind.

It is not claimed that all advanced cases of this kind are curable, nor that any such case is curable. But Milks Emulsion costs nothing to try in any case, and it has restored hundreds of hopeless victims to health.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of asthma, chronic bronchitis and tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold and guaranteed by Sayre & Hemphill.

ALL LORRAINE IS OVERJOYED TO HAVE FRENCH RULE AGAIN

By Frank J. Taylor.

Metz, Nov. 20.—(Night)—Peasants and trades people were the loudest in their cheers when the French resumed control of Lorraine.

The reason is that most of the workers are native Lorrainers and heartily pro-French.

There was only the mildest enthusiasm among former office holders and professional men. These are mostly from Germany and had a monopoly on the job with fat salaries.

Many of them intend to stay under French control, apparently. They say they would learn to become French and would welcome the new liberty. The German population appears to be almost as friendly toward Americans as the French. It seemed that everybody had questions to ask concerning relatives in the United States. The French armies will enter Strassburg Sunday.

THEATERS

BIJOU.

Norbert Wicki, a Polish actor of nation-wide prominence among the Poles of this country, was chosen by J. Stuart Blackton, the famous motion picture director of "The Battle Cry of Peace," and other film spectacles, to portray the role of Jethro Fawe, the gypsy lover in the "World for Sale," which has been adapted for the screen for Paramount, and which is to be shown at the Bijou theater, on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 22 and 23. Mr. Wicki has scored many previous successes with Mary Pickford, Norma Talmadge, Alice Brady and others.

ORPHIUM.

Roy Stewart, Triangle's popular western star, appears in another of the highly amusing and original Red Saunders stories at the Orphium theater, Friday, Nov. 22. This new story is called "The Fly God," and is said to be as amusing and interesting as "A Red Haired Cupid," in which Mr. Stewart last appeared.

OPERA HOUSE.

The Shannon Stock Company comes to Xenia again for its annual three day appearance, Monday, the 25th, playing the "Daughter of Uncle Sam," a popular war drama, the first of the three plays to be given.

A unique feature of this company this year is its service flag, which displays 26 stars for the men Uncle Sam has claimed from the troupe, band and orchestra.

Hazel Shannon, as usual, is playing the lead in the five or six stock dramas, and while Harry Jr., and "Red" Subier are overseas with the army, talent of the same splendid quality has been substituted and the quality of the show will no doubt be up to the standard. Seats at Sohn's drug store, Saturday.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish through the Gazette to thank our kind neighbors and dear friends for their kindness in every way, and also for the many beautiful floral offerings sent to us in our hours of bereavement.

Human Need of Change.

We all need a change, and often when we are ailing it is all we do need. Perhaps cyclic phenomena in human conduct, such as periodic alcoholism, are the result of nothing more than the unbearable craving for a decided change, and some other experience might be substituted for the spree. Nor does this principle apply solely to what we are pleased to term mental ailments. How often the sick room is lacking in change; the bed is kept in the same spot, the objects in the room are never shifted, old subjects of conversation are worn threadbare, etc.

LAXATIVE for Aged People

THE BANE of old age is constipation. The bowels become weak and unable to perform their functions without aid. For this purpose only the mildest and gentlest laxative should be used. The use of harsh cathartics aggravates the trouble and makes the constipation worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are a favorite with people of middle age and older on account of their gentle action.

What Determines Meat and Live-Stock Prices?

Some stock men still think that Swift & Company—and other big packers—can pay as little for live-stock as they wish.

Some consumers are still led to believe that the packers can charge as much for dressed meat as they wish.

This is not true. These prices are fixed by a law of human nature as old as human nature itself—the law of supply and demand.

When more people want meat than there is meat to be had, the scramble along the line to get it for them sends prices up. When there is more meat than there are people who want it, the scramble all along the line to get rid of it within a few days, while it is still fresh, sends prices down.

When prices of meat go up, Swift & Company not only can pay the producer more, but has to pay him more, or some other packer will.

Similarly, when prices recede all down the line Swift & Company cannot continue to pay the producer the same prices as before, and still remain in the packing business.

All the packer can do is to keep the expense of turning stock into meat at a minimum, so that the consumer can get as much as possible for his money, and the producer as much as possible for his live-stock.

Thanks to its splendid plants, modern methods, branch houses, car routes, fleet of refrigerator cars, experience and organization, Swift & Company is able to pay for live cattle 90 per cent of what it receives for beef and by-products, and to cover expense of production and distribution, as well as its profit (a small fraction of a cent per pound), out of the other 10 per cent.

ANOTHER CEDARVILLE SOLDIER MAKES THE SUPREME SACRIFICE

A second of Cedarville's colored youths, made the supreme sacrifice for his country in France, when Leotus Broadus, died of influenza, a few weeks ago. Official notice of his death was received Wednesday from the government by his mother, Mrs. Hannah Broadus.

Young Broadus, was familiarly called "Duck" by his associates in Cedarville, where he spent all his life. Before entering the service a year ago he was employed at Ralph Wolford's blacksmith shop. He was attached to the 813th Pioneer Regiment, and went overseas after being in camp only a few weeks. He is survived by his mother and three sisters.

THE MOST DANGEROUS DISEASE

No organs of the human body are so important to health and long life as the kidneys. When they slow up and commence to lag in their duties, look out! Danger is in sight.

Find out what the trouble is—without delay. Whenever you feel nervous, weak, dizzy, suffer from sleeplessness, or have pains in the back or difficulty in passing urine—WAKE UP AT ONCE. Your kidneys need help. These are signs to warn you that your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. They are only half doing their work and are allowing impurities to accumulate and be converted into uric acid and other poisons which are causing you distress and will destroy you unless they are driven from your system.

BOY BRIDE-GROOM NOT DELINQUENT DECLARES COURT

Before Judge J. C. Marshall dismissed the charge of delinquency against Errol Rayburn, 16 year old bridegroom, in Juvenile Court, Thursday morning, he took occasion to give a homily on proper exercise of parental authority, the objects of his remarks being the parents of the youth and his 14 year old bride, Mildred Dever Rayburn.

The youth was before the court on a delinquincy charge filed by Noah Dever, father of his little bride, who alleged that he struck and knocked down Mrs. Fitch, grandmother of his bride, during an argument between the two families, resulting from the boy and girl marriage.

The court found that the lad was not delinquent. That he had not struck Mrs. Fitch, and that the boy was telling the truth when he said that during the excitement he jerked away from some one who grabbed his shoulder, and that he turned and saw Mrs. Fitch stagger backward and fall on the sidewalk. Prosecuting Attorney Harry D. Smith recommended that the charge be dismissed. There was nothing to show that the lad was delinquent, he said, and the charge against him was filed in the excitement following the unfortunate circumstance resulting from the natural consternation of the two families over the marriage.

Owing to the action pending in the common pleas court to annul the marriage, it would be best to have no further notoriety attach to the youthful parties.

Judge Marshall dismissed the charge and told the parents that a continuance of the exercise of parental authority would be an excellent thing, and with the annulment of the marriage, both children should be returned to school.

"When they have reached the proper age, if they are still of the same mind, then it is time enough for them to consider marriage," he said.

Upon this remark of the court, the youthful pair exchanged loving smiles and glances at each other behind the backs of papa and mama.

Tells How to Stop a Bad Cough

Surprising results from this famous old home-made syrup. Easily prepared and costs little.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with croup and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This recipe makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds.

There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Music's Vitalizing Force.

Two facts are made clear about music at the moment. There is a new vitality discernible in the art itself, and there is a new and increasingly urgent need for it. When a nation does no more than rise and stretch itself, an increased circulation may be felt. The music of this stage may be no more than a yawn of gigantic being. But when the mind of the nation realizes that a huge task is thrust upon it, the energizing processes are apparent in every vital department. These processes music shares to a pre-eminent degree because of its communicative nature. It is not only vital in itself; it is actually a vitalizing force. And the simple truth seems to be that an awakened nation will always choose to sing at its work and will be the happier and more efficient for it.—London Times.

"VERSAILLES THE BEAUTIFUL."

Versailles, France, where the Armistice court was held, and where the "Peace Table" will be spread in December, is a very notable place. It is twelve miles from Paris and long renowned as the seat of Royalty, where many of the Kings once lived. The city proper has a population of 60,000 or 70,000, but its chief attraction is the noted palace.

Stoddard says if a tourist would give but five minutes to each apartment of this palace, it would take him three days, of five hours each, to pass through the rooms.

On the central balcony of this palace, after the death of each king, the officer of the royal bed chamber appeared and broke his wand of office, crying "The King is dead." Then taking up another wand he exclaimed "Long Live the King."

The palace was made notable at one time as the residence of Queen Marie Antonette, just before the great revolution, which eventually put Napoleon, the First, in the chair as Emperor. But poor Marie Antonette, having had a weak husband, who let the good of the nation "go to the dogs," was with him beheaded, Oct. 16, 1793. She was a great friend of Lafayette, and of the American colonies. It is somewhat notable just now that she came to the throne of France under circumstances like those through which Europe has just been passing—ill-will of the nations towards each other. Her mother, Queen Marie Theresa, of Austria, determined upon her marriage to the French Dauphin, with a view of strengthening Austria against Prussia.

And does it not seem another illustration of the "Irony of Fate," that right in beautiful Versailles, where royalty and monarchy had long reigned; and right in the very spot where the now dethroned and dishonored kaiser had himself crowned Emperor of Germany, should soon be taking place the "Peace Table," which is to be a new Declaration of Independence—a Declaration of Independence for a world—a world long under the crushing heel of fellows who claimed to be "born to rule."

So, hereafter there will be no further announcements from the Versailles palace balcony "The King is dead—long live the King—but instead "The King is dead—long live Liberty."

DON'T LIKE SETTING BACK THE CLOCKS.

When all the world of the United States "set back the clocks" an hour, on the last Sabbath of October, there was general expression of concurrence in the wisdom of Congress that gave the change of time, spring and fall. We had not heard any dissent from this until this week, when we read a communication in another paper, from a farmer, who makes out a good case of showing that "you can please some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time, but you can't please all the people all the time."

He says: "Nearly all the papers assume that this so-called "daylight saving" is an unalloyed blessing. It may have been beneficial in the cites, but the farmer and dweller in the rural village found it a nuisance. Farm work can not be successfully done by other than sun time. In consequence, though the farmer's watch might say one time, he worked by another; in consequence nothing could begin in the evening before nine and it was oftener half past nine before the people assembled and we found that we could not begin church Sabbath evening before eight-thirty. This year the country people accepted the change as a war measure, and put up with it, with but little complaint; and if the war continues they will do the same another year. But be assured that when the urge of war is over there will be a very urgent demand to stay on sun time; and if the demand is unsuccessful the conditions of our boyhood will return, when there was local time and railroad time. The country folks will have and go by sun time, even if they have to use the other to take trains and do part of their business."

Ever Think of It?

Electricity can run through very slender wires. And the energies of saving grace can enter the life through the medium of a very unfinished creed. —Christian Herald.

A BIG BILL FOR GERMANY TO PAY.

Two main objects led Germany to launch the campaign of unrestricted submarine warfare even at the risk of bringing the United States into the conflict. The more obvious of course, was to starve out England and prevent the transportation of her troops and supplies. The other, of secondary importance while the war lasted, was to pave the way for gaining commercial supremacy when the war was over. The sinking of enemy tonnage is of course a legitimate war measure, though Germany made it illegitimate by destroying life as well. But the sinking of neutral tonnage is a breach of international law, whether lives are lost or not. Germany did this for no other purpose than to wipe out commerical rivals. Thus Norway is her chief rival in the shipping business among the neutrals, and Norwegian ships have suffered more than any other. The war was from the first a business enterprise on Germany's part, and this line was to be one of the most profitable.

The Allies have the first claim on German shipping. None others should be admitted until theirs is satisfied. In the armistice with Austria a surrender of the Austrian navy is provided for; and nothing less can be asked of Germany. But Germany has a large merchant marine partly interned in neutral countries, partly safe in her own ports, partly taken over by the Allied countries. In ordinary circumstances all her ships would be returned to her after the war, with payment for their use if they had been used, or for their purchase if it was desired to buy them. We have under the American flag a large German fleet for which Germany has the right to ask an equivalent in money. Without denying that right we shall have also a right to deduct from the debt full compensation for all the losses inflicted by Germany upon Allied commerce. All the Allied nations will have the same right. It may be that the German tonnage now in Allied or neutral hands will not suffice to pay the bill.

Everyday Etiquette

"I have never known what is the proper thing to do when one is entertaining and a guest comes in late. Won't you please tell us," pleaded Mrs. Youngwife.

"If the guest is a woman, the hostess should rise and shake hands and receive apologies amiably. If the guest is a man she need not rise. The host, however, rises, comes forward, assists in seating the delinquent and endeavors, by making general conversation, to distract attention from the incident. The guest is expected to take up the dinner at the point where he arrived," said her aunt.

MOTORAIDS

The motorcycle with the sidecar attachment is coming into great popularity since the war began, as it has proven such a great convenience in army camps and about military offices.

Most dealers at present sell motorcycles on the installment plan, so that many who could not otherwise afford a motor vehicle, are able to indulge in a motor cycle. For many a workman they save car fare in going to and from work, and, when employment is away from a car line, the motor cycle is invaluable. It is always available, too, and will work all day Sunday just as well as on the other six days of the week.

Their consumption of gasoline is small and no garage expense is needed to stable such a steed. They will travel anywhere and on many roads that a motor car would not attempt, owing to its size.

Fair Warning.

Bob's brother, seeking revenge, had put grass in his sister's slippers after they had been cleaned. Later in the afternoon Bob discovered the mischief and as his sister was about to put on the slippers he came swiftly running toward her, crying out as he did so: "Don't put them on. There's a bird's nest inside and you'll kill the young ones!"

"THE WIFE"

By JANE PHELPS

BRIAN REMAINS OUT ALL NIGHT. RUTH IS ANXIOUS.

CHAPTER XCIV.

Breakfast time came and yet Brian had not returned. Ruth drank some strong coffee and made ready for the office. Had something happened to Brian, or— Once the thought came to her that she would call Mrs. Curtis, get Mollie King's address, and call her and ask if she knew where Brian was. But her pride intervened. If he should be—if he had remained out with her so late that he thought best to go to some down town hotel instead of coming home, Ruth would only have humbled herself unnecessarily. Or if Mollie had not seen him and Brian was with someone elese, she would have let Mollie see her anxiety and that would be almost as bad.

Ruth looked so pale and worried when she reached the store that Mandel, the moment he had welcomed her back, asked if she were ill. He had not mentioned the business upon which she had been engaged. Her appearance alarmed him.

"No, I am not ill. I didn't sleep well," she could not avoid contrasting his very evident regard for her with Brian's seeming carelessness. He looked anxious, too. His voice had held real concern. It made Brian's affection the more glaring.

That noon she went home during the lunch hour something she never did. She thought—hoped—there might be some word of Brian. But although she pocketed her pride and questioned Rachel, there was nothing.

Should she call his office? Her pride said "no," her anxiety "yes." There were many accidents in New York streets, due to careless driving of motor cars and other causes. Brian might have been hurt. She called his office, unable to endure the thought. He might even then be lying in some hospital.

"No, Mr. Hackett went out about half an hour ago. Who shall I tell him called?"

"Never mind, I'll call again." Ruth had no need to try to disguise her voice. No one would have recognized it. She started back to the shop, quivering in every nerve, angry, anxious, undetermined what to do—what attitude to take toward him when he came home.

"Perhaps I've been too lenient. Too easy," she said to herself as she hurried back to her work. She again had been unable to eat, and had only taken a cup of strong tea. Every nerve in her body was aquiver with her emotion. Yet she could not decide what to do. Finally she made up her mind that for once she would question Brian. He must tell her where he had been and with whom. Then she thought: "He may not come up to the apartment again tonight. He doesn't know I am at home." And acting upon impulse she stopped in a public telephone booth and again called the office. Brian had not yet returned, but she left word to tell him that his wife was at home. The girl promised to tell him as soon as he came in.

In a measure relieved, Ruth continued on her way to the store. All the afternoon Mandel watched her closely, and was unusually thoughtful, even for him. Ruth appreciated his care for her as never before. The difference between his anxious care and Brian's indifference, hurt her, yet she was soothed that SOMEONE thought of her, even if Brian didn't.

"You'd better stop for the day," Mandel said to her about half past four. "My car is at the door. I shall not need it for another hour. My chauffeur will take you home. Let him drive you through the park. It will do you good."

Ruth often had refused to use her employer's car. But she was almost distraught over Brian's absence the night before. It would do her good to take a drive in the park. She perhaps could think things out better there where everything was so peaceful and quiet.

She thanked Mandel, and he looked so pleased when she accepted his offer, that she almost changed her mind. But the prospect was too tempting, so she allowed him to assist her into the car and nodded assent when he said to the chauffeur: "Take Mrs. Hackett home. Go through the park. I shall not need you for an hour or more," then he turned to Ruth: "Unless you feel perfectly all right, don't try to work tomorrow. You look really ill."

Tears stood in Ruth's eyes. His kindness had touched her. She was weak from her long fast, in addition to her worry. She brushed them quickly away, but not before he had seen them and speculated upon their cause.

But before she had been riding long, she recovered her poise. She must not let Brian see her with red eyes. So she leaned back in the luxurious car, and really felt almost like herself again when the chauffeur turned into her street.

As he drew up to the curb in front of the apartment, Brian rounded the corner. When she stepped out, he was almost at the door. He stopped in amazement. Then a sarcastic smile curled his lips as he turned and assisted her from the car, saying:

"The telephone operator told me you were at home so I came early."

Tomorrow—Ruth and Brian Quarrel.

Charm of a Rabbit Foot.

An explanation of the marvelous and mysterious properties of the rabbit foot as a good luck piece is to be found in the fact that witchcraft regarded the rabbit as a particularly mystical animal. The favorite disguise of the witches of old was to take the form of a rabbit—a close second was the cat—and records again and again show convictions and executions of women for the fearful crime of changing themselves into rabbits. A rabbit foot was a potent charm against the evil spells of the witch-rabbit.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Noah's Ark a Good Model.

A good word for Noah's prescience as a shipbuilder is found in an allusion to his ark in "Nauticus." "It would not be a difficult task," says that journal, "to pick out of Lloyd's Register many ships built within the last twenty years whose dimensions suggest a form closely resembling that of Noah's ark. According to the dimensions given in the Bible as translated in terms of modern measurement, the ark was 480 feet long, 80 feet wide, and 48 feet deep. Her tonnage was 11,413, and she had plenty of room for pairs of all the distinct species of animals that are classed by Buffon—244—and she could have accommodated a thousand persons and then had plenty of room for the storage of supplies."

CONGREGATIONAL DINNER IS MOST ENJOYABLE EVENT

A Harvest Home idea prevailed in the decorations at the congregational dinner which was held at Trinity church, Wednesday night.

The three long tables were centered by miniature corn shocks, about which were placed small pumpkins and golden ears of corn.

One hundred and ninety persons were present, and most of them were seated at once about the tables, where a very bountiful and delicious dinner, prepared by the women of the congregation, was served.

There was no program of speeeches, the evening beimg passed by the members of the congregation in visiting with each other.

Two charming little girls, Clara and Betty Clevenger, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clevenger of Dayton, delighted the gathering with their musical performance. The children, the elder of whom is eight and the younger six years of age, are regarded as prodigies in a musical way. Both play the piano with great skill. The younger child has been taking lessons since she was four and a half years of age, and she reads music fluently and plays with much skill. She learns very rapidly, and in her own words, plays "grown up music."

The precocious little ones received much attention from their audience.

Rev. and Mrs. George Vorhis of Springfield, were among the guests at the dinner.

Cave Dwellers in France.

In prehistoric times, when man had to fight with wild beasts not only for food but for life, he found a welcome refuge in grottoes and caverns. But as soon as humanity had achieved some degree of progress in civilization our ancestors forsook these primitive natural shelters for more comfortable dwellings. Our readers, therefore, remarks the Scientific American, doubtless imagine that the troglodyte ceased to exist many centuries ago, at any rate in Europe. Yet even today there may be found Frenchmen who live underground only a few hundred kilometers from Paris.

"KULTUR" IN THE GERMAN RANKS

German professor private in German army.

This photo gives a good idea of the condition of the German troops just before hostilities ceased. The German private shown was a professor before he was needed to fill the thinning ranks of the Hun army. Now, unkempt and laden down with luggage, he is buying something to eat to satisfy the hunger that thin army "soup" wouldn't end.

BIBLE CONFERENCE OPENS AT REFORMED CHURCH WEDNESDAY

The Bible Conference at the First Reformed church opened Wednesday evening. Rev. George E. Guille, of the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago led in a study of the Exaltation of Jesus. He gave a beautiful exposition of the opening chapter of the Book of Hebrews, showing how the Savior "finished the work which the Father had given Him to do." Those present were wonderfully happy in this beautiful study. The service this evening will be at 7:30. A welcome to all. Come and bring your friends—and bring your Bibles.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR W. THOMAS LITTLE

On Friday evening, Nov. 22, at 7:30 o'clock, a memorial service will be held in the chapel of the theological seminary for Mr. W. Thomas Little, who died on October 1, from wounds received in action in the Argonne region in France.

Brief addresses will be made by classmates and friends of Mr. Little, at the conclusion of which his portrait will be thrown upon a screen and "taps" will be sounded by the bugler of the Home cadets. It is desired that all friends and former acquaintances of the brave soldier boy who has given his life to the great cause, attend.

Peppercorns and India.

The rise in the prices of spices recalls that it was a similar attempt in the time of Queen Elizabeth, says the London Chronicle, which led to the establishment of the British empire in India. The Dutch then held the monopoly of trade with India. At one fell swoop they raised the price of pepper from 3s to 6s a pound. Thereupon a meeting of merchants in London was called to protest against "the most unchristian price of pepper," with the result that there was formed in 1599 the famous old East India company which from supplying English cruets with pepper passed insensibly to the conquest and government of a sub-continent.

HEARD FROM OUR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS

Mrs. Jacob Diehl, of Yellow Springs, received the following letter from her son Jacob, who is now at Camp Taylor, Ky.

Camp Taylor, Ky., Oct. 26, 1918.

Dear Mother:—Its drizzling rain this afternoon and as its rather dead around here will send you a few lines. Have been wondering for several days if the "flu" has hit Yellow Springs. It sure is prevalent in Kentucky and especially at Camp Taylor. However the authorities are getting it well under control and every one believes it will only be a short time until it will be entirely eliminated, at least we all hope so.

I have been working in a ward about a week where we have about 81 patients. The majority of them have the "flu" but the nurse said this morning they were all recovering nicely and would soon be turned out. It isn't the most pleasant place to work for the first few days but after that we get used to hearing their troubles and enjoy waiting on them.

Just happened to run across Edgar Brown the other night. He has been transferred from the Sixth Co. to the Field Artillery and expects to go across soon. He was feeling fine and we enjoyed a few minutes conversation very much.

Army life seems to be quite the right thing for me, as I am feeling fine, eating three square meals a day and gaining flesh all the time. It is surprising how good the eats are as it looks almost impossible to feed such a large body of men, but Uncle Sam has system thoroughly enforced and is able to carry out many big ventures. In fact none are too big for Uncle Sam.

Camp Taylor extends over a large area and covers hundreds of acres of good Kentucky soil which might raise corn were it not for the Camp. I am informed the soldiers here number about 60,000 at this time including colored troops and the Officers Training Camp, which is within itself a big institution. Officers at the rate of 500 are graduated from the school every two weeks and more are coming in all the time.

The Camp is beautifully located about six miles south east of Louisville, about a thirty minute ride on the street car and about twenty minutes by jitney. The jitneys are not so well patronized the last few weeks as only a certain per cent can go to Louisville on account of the epidemic. But no more for now as I must work a while. Don't forget to write me when you have a few spare moments.

"VERSAILLES THE BEAUTIFUL."

Versailles, France, where the Armistice court was held, and where the "Peace Table" will be spread in December, is a very notable place. It is twelve miles from Paris and long renowned as the seat of Royalty, where many of the Kings once lived. The city proper has a population of 60,000 or 70,000, but its chief attraction is the noted palace.

Stoddard says if a tourist would give but five minutes to each apartment of this palace, it would take him three days, of five hours each, to pass through the rooms.

On the central balcony of this palace, after the death of each king, the officer of the royal bed chamber appeared and broke his wand of office, crying "The King is dead." Then taking up another wand he exclaimed "Long Live the King."

The palace was made notable at one time as the residence of Queen Marie Antonette, just before the great revolution, which eventually put Napoleon, the First, in the chair as Emperor. But poor Marie Antonette, having had a weak husband, who let the good of the nation "go to the dogs," was with him beheaded, Oct. 16, 1793. She was a great friend of Lafayette, and of the American colonies. It is somewhat notable just now that she came to the throne of France under circumstances like those through which Europe has just been passing—ill-will of the nations towards each other. Her mother, Queen Marie Theresa, of Austria, determined upon her marriage to the French Dauphin, with a view of strengthening Austria against Prussia.

And does it not seem another illustration of the "Irony of Fate," that right in beautiful Versailles, where royalty and monarchy had long reigned; and right in the very spot where the now dethroned and dishonored kaiser had himself crowned Emperor of Germany, should soon be taking place the "Peace Table," which is to be a new Declaration of Independence—a Declaration of Independence for a world—a world long under the crushing heel of fellows who claimed to be "born to rule."

So, hereafter there will be no further announcements from the Versailles palace balcony "The King is dead—long live the King—but instead "The King is dead—long live Liberty."

DON'T LIKE SETTING BACK THE CLOCKS.

When all the world of the United States "set back the clocks" an hour, on the last Sabbath of October, there was general expression of concurrence in the wisdom of Congress that gave the change of time, spring and fall. We had not heard any dissent from this until this week, when we read a communication in another paper, from a farmer, who makes out a good case of showing that "you can please some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time, but you can't please all the people all the time."

He says: "Nearly all the papers assume that this so-called "daylight saving" is an unalloyed blessing. It may have been beneficial in the cites, but the farmer and dweller in the rural village found it a nuisance. Farm work can not be successfully done by other than sun time. In consequence, though the farmer's watch might say one time, he worked by another; in consequence nothing could begin in the evening before nine and it was oftener half past nine before the people assembled and we found that we could not begin church Sabbath evening before eight-thirty. This year the country people accepted the change as a war measure, and put up with it, with but little complaint; and if the war continues they will do the same another year. But be assured that when the urge of war is over there will be a very urgent demand to stay on sun time; and if the demand is unsuccessful the conditions of our boyhood will return, when there was local time and railroad time. The country folks will have and go by sun time, even if they have to use the other to take trains and do part of their business."

Ever Think of It?

Electricity can run through very slender wires. And the energies of saving grace can enter the life through the medium of a very unfinished creed. —Christian Herald.

A BIG BILL FOR GERMANY TO PAY.

Two main objects led Germany to launch the campaign of unrestricted submarine warfare even at the risk of bringing the United States into the conflict. The more obvious of course, was to starve out England and prevent the transportation of her troops and supplies. The other, of secondary importance while the war lasted, was to pave the way for gaining commercial supremacy when the war was over. The sinking of enemy tonnage is of course a legitimate war measure, though Germany made it illegitimate by destroying life as well. But the sinking of neutral tonnage is a breach of international law, whether lives are lost or not. Germany did this for no other purpose than to wipe out commerical rivals. Thus Norway is her chief rival in the shipping business among the neutrals, and Norwegian ships have suffered more than any other. The war was from the first a business enterprise on Germany's part, and this line was to be one of the most profitable.

The Allies have the first claim on German shipping. None others should be admitted until theirs is satisfied. In the armistice with Austria a surrender of the Austrian navy is provided for; and nothing less can be asked of Germany. But Germany has a large merchant marine partly interned in neutral countries, partly safe in her own ports, partly taken over by the Allied countries. In ordinary circumstances all her ships would be returned to her after the war, with payment for their use if they had been used, or for their purchase if it was desired to buy them. We have under the American flag a large German fleet for which Germany has the right to ask an equivalent in money. Without denying that right we shall have also a right to deduct from the debt full compensation for all the losses inflicted by Germany upon Allied commerce. All the Allied nations will have the same right. It may be that the German tonnage now in Allied or neutral hands will not suffice to pay the bill.

Everyday Etiquette

"I have never known what is the proper thing to do when one is entertaining and a guest comes in late. Won't you please tell us," pleaded Mrs. Youngwife.

"If the guest is a woman, the hostess should rise and shake hands and receive apologies amiably. If the guest is a man she need not rise. The host, however, rises, comes forward, assists in seating the delinquent and endeavors, by making general conversation, to distract attention from the incident. The guest is expected to take up the dinner at the point where he arrived," said her aunt.

MOTORAIDS

The motorcycle with the sidecar attachment is coming into great popularity since the war began, as it has proven such a great convenience in army camps and about military offices.

Most dealers at present sell motorcycles on the installment plan, so that many who could not otherwise afford a motor vehicle, are able to indulge in a motor cycle. For many a workman they save car fare in going to and from work, and, when employment is away from a car line, the motor cycle is invaluable. It is always available, too, and will work all day Sunday just as well as on the other six days of the week.

Their consumption of gasoline is small and no garage expense is needed to stable such a steed. They will travel anywhere and on many roads that a motor car would not attempt, owing to its size.

Fair Warning.

Bob's brother, seeking revenge, had put grass in his sister's slippers after they had been cleaned. Later in the afternoon Bob discovered the mischief and as his sister was about to put on the slippers he came swiftly running toward her, crying out as he did so: "Don't put them on. There's a bird's nest inside and you'll kill the young ones!"

"THE WIFE"

By JANE PHELPS

BRIAN REMAINS OUT ALL NIGHT. RUTH IS ANXIOUS.

CHAPTER XCIV.

Breakfast time came and yet Brian had not returned. Ruth drank some strong coffee and made ready for the office. Had something happened to Brian, or— Once the thought came to her that she would call Mrs. Curtis, get Mollie King's address, and call her and ask if she knew where Brian was. But her pride intervened. If he should be—if he had remained out with her so late that he thought best to go to some down town hotel instead of coming home, Ruth would only have humbled herself unnecessarily. Or if Mollie had not seen him and Brian was with someone elese, she would have let Mollie see her anxiety and that would be almost as bad.

Ruth looked so pale and worried when she reached the store that Mandel, the moment he had welcomed her back, asked if she were ill. He had not mentioned the business upon which she had been engaged. Her appearance alarmed him.

"No, I am not ill. I didn't sleep well," she could not avoid contrasting his very evident regard for her with Brian's seeming carelessness. He looked anxious, too. His voice had held real concern. It made Brian's affection the more glaring.

That noon she went home during the lunch hour something she never did. She thought—hoped—there might be some word of Brian. But although she pocketed her pride and questioned Rachel, there was nothing.

Should she call his office? Her pride said "no," her anxiety "yes." There were many accidents in New York streets, due to careless driving of motor cars and other causes. Brian might have been hurt. She called his office, unable to endure the thought. He might even then be lying in some hospital.

"No, Mr. Hackett went out about half an hour ago. Who shall I tell him called?"

"Never mind, I'll call again." Ruth had no need to try to disguise her voice. No one would have recognized it. She started back to the shop, quivering in every nerve, angry, anxious, undetermined what to do—what attitude to take toward him when he came home.

"Perhaps I've been too lenient. Too easy," she said to herself as she hurried back to her work. She again had been unable to eat, and had only taken a cup of strong tea. Every nerve in her body was aquiver with her emotion. Yet she could not decide what to do. Finally she made up her mind that for once she would question Brian. He must tell her where he had been and with whom. Then she thought: "He may not come up to the apartment again tonight. He doesn't know I am at home." And acting upon impulse she stopped in a public telephone booth and again called the office. Brian had not yet returned but she left word to tell him that his wife was at home. The girl promised to tell him as soon as he came in.

In a measure relieved, Ruth continued on her way to the store. All the afternoon Mandel watched her closely, and was unusually thoughtful, even for him. Ruth appreciated his care for her as never before. The difference between his anxious care and Brian's indifference, hurt her, yet she was soothed that SOMEONE thought of her, even if Brian didn't.

"You'd better stop for the day," Mandel said to her about half past four. "My car is at the door. I shall not need it for another hour. My chauffeur will take you home. Let him drive you through the park. It will do you good."

Ruth often had refused to use her employer's car. But she was almost distraught over Brian's absence the night before. It would do her good to take a drive in the park. She perhaps could think things out better there where everything was so peaceful and quiet.

She thanked Mandel, and he looked so pleased when she accepted his offer, that she almost changed her mind. But, the prospect was too tempting, so she allowed him to assist her into the car and nodded assent when he said to the chauffeur: "Take Mrs. Hackett home. Go through the park. I shall not need you for an hour or more," then he turned to Ruth: "Unless you feel perfectly all right, don't try to work tomorrow. You look really ill."

Tears stood in Ruth's eyes. His kindness had touched her. She was weak from her long fast, in addition to her worry. She brushed them quickly away, but not before he had seen them and speculated upon their cause.

But before she had been riding long, she recovered her poise. She must not let Brian see her with red eyes. So she leaned back in the luxurious car, and really felt almost like herself again when the chauffeur turned into her street.

As he drew up to the curb in front of the apartment, Brian rounded the corner. When she stepped out, he was almost at the door. He stopped in amazement. Then a sarcastic smile curled his lips as he turned and assisted her from the car, saying:

"The telephone operator told me you were at home so I came early."

Tomorrow—Ruth and Brian Quarrel.

Charm of a Rabbit Foot.

An explanation of the marvelous and mysterious properties of the rabbit foot as a good luck piece is to be found in the fact that witchcraft regarded the rabbit as a particularly mystical animal. The favorite disguise of the witches of old was to take the form of a rabbit—a close second was the cat—and records again and again show convictions and executions of women for the fearful crime of changing themselves into rabbits. A rabbit foot was a potent charm against the evil spells of the witch-rabbit.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Noah's Ark a Good Model.

A good word for Noah's prescience as a shipbuilder is found in an allusion to his ark in "Nauticus." "It would not be a difficult task," says that journal, "to pick out of Lloyd's Register many ships built within the last twenty years whose dimensions suggest a form closely resembling that of Noah's ark. According to the dimensions given in the Bible as translated in terms of modern measurement, the ark was 480 feet long, 80 feet wide, and 48 feet deep. Her tonnage was 11,413, and she had plenty of room for pairs of all the distinct species of animals that are classed by Buffon—244—and she could have accommodated a thousand persons and then had plenty of room for the storage of supplies."

A Harvest Home idea prevailed in the decorations at the congregational dinner which was held at Trinity church, Wednesday night.

The three long tables were centered by miniature corn shocks, about which were placed small pumpkins and golden ears of corn.

One hundred and ninety persons were present, and most of them were seated at once about the tables, where a very bountiful and delicious dinner, prepared by the women of the congregation, was served.

There was no program of speeceches, the evening being passed by the members of the congregation in visiting with each other.

Two charming little girls, Clara and Betty Clevenger, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clevenger of Dayton, delighted the gathering with their musical performance. The children, the elder of whom is eight and the younger six years of age, are regarded as prodigies in a musical way. Both play the piano with great skill. The younger child has been taking lessons since she was four and a half years of age, and she reads music fluently and plays with much skill. She learns very rapidly, and in her own words, plays "grown up music."

The precocious little ones received much attention from their audience.

Rev. and Mrs. George Vorhis of Springfield, were among the guests at the dinner.

Cave Dwellers in France.

In prehistoric times, when man had to fight with wild beasts not only for food but for life, he found a welcome refuge in grottoes and caverns. But as soon as humanity had achieved some degree of progress in civilization our ancestors forsook these primitive natural shelters for more comfortable dwellings. Our readers, therefore, remarks the Scientific American, doubtless imagine that the troglodyte ceased to exist many centuries ago, at any rate in Europe. Yet even today there may be found Frenchmen who live underground only a few hundred kilometers from Paris.

German professor private in German army.

This photo gives a good idea of the condition of the German troops just before hostilities ceased. The German private shown was a professor before he was needed to fill the thinning ranks of the Hun army. Now, unkempt and laden down with luggage, he is buying something to eat to satisfy the hunger that thin army "soup" wouldn't end.

BIBLE CONFERENCE OPENS AT REFORMED CHURCH WEDNESDAY

The Bible Conference at the First Reformed church opened Wednesday evening. Rev. George E. Guille, of the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, led in a study of the Exaltation of Jesus. He gave a beautiful exposition of the opening chapter of the Book of Hebrews, showing how the Savior "finished the work which the Father had given Him to do." Those present were wonderfully happy in this beautiful study. The service this evening will be at 7:30. A welcome to all. Come and bring your friends—and bring your Bibles.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR W. THOMAS LITTLE

On Friday evening, Nov. 22, at 7:30 o'clock, a memorial service will be held in the chapel of the theological seminary for Mr. W. Thomas Little, who died on October 1, from wounds received in action in the Argonne region in France.

Brief addresses will be made by classmates and friends of Mr. Little, at the conclusion of which his portrait will be thrown upon a screen and "taps" will be sounded by the bugler of the Home cadets. It is desired that all friends and former acquaintances of the brave soldier boy who has given his life to the great cause, attend.

Peppercorns and India.

The rise in the prices of spices recalls that it was a similar attempt in the time of Queen Elizabeth, says the London Chronicle, which led to the establishment of the British empire in India. The Dutch then held the monopoly of trade with India. At one fell swoop they raised the price of pepper from 3s to 6s a pound. Thereupon a meeting of merchants in London was called to protest against "the most unchristian price of pepper," with the result that there was formed in 1599 the famous old East India company which from supplying English cruets with pepper passed insensibly to the conquest and government of a sub-continent.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. HEARD FROM OUR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS

Mrs. Jacob Diehl, of Yellow Springs, received the following letter from her son Jacob, who is now at Camp Taylor, Ky.

Camp Taylor, Ky., Oct. 26, 1918.

Dear Mother:—Its drizzling rain this afternoon and as its rather dead around here will send you a few lines. Have been wondering for several days if the "flu" has hit Yellow Springs. It sure is prevalent in Kentucky and especially at Camp Taylor. However the authorities are getting it well under control and every one believes it will only be a short time until it will be entirely eliminated, at least we all hope so.

I have been working in a ward about a week where we have about 81 patients. The majority of them have the "flu" but the nurse said this morning they were all recovering nicely and would soon be turned out. It isn't the most pleasant place to work for the first few days but after that we get used to hearing their troubles and enjoy waiting on them.

Just happened to run across Edgar Brown the other night. He has been transferred from the Sixth Co. to the Field Artillery and expects to go across soon. He was feeling fine and we enjoyed a few minutes conversation very much.

Army life seems to be quite the right thing for me, as I am feeling fine, eating three square meals a day and gaining flesh all the time. It is surprising how good the eats are as it looks almost impossible to feed such a large body of men, but Uncle Sam has system thoroughly enforced and is able to carry out many big ventures. In fact none are too big for Uncle Sam.

Camp Taylor extends over a large area and covers hundreds of acres of good Kentucky soil which might raise corn were it not for the Camp. I am informed the soldiers here number about 60,000 at this time including colored troops and the Officers Training Camp, which is within itself a big institution. Officers at the rate of 500 are graduated from the school every two weeks and more are coming in all the time.

The Camp is beautifully located about six miles south east of Louisville, about a thirty minute ride on the street car and about twenty minutes by jitney. The jitneys are not so well patronized the last few weeks as only a certain per cent can go to Louisville on account of the epidemic. But no more for now as I must work a while. Don't forget to write me when you have a few spare moments.

GRAPE-NUTS

Requires No Sugar

Whenever you eat anything that is "naturally" sweet, thereby saving the use of sugar you are helping just that much.

Most prepared cereals require some additional sweetening. Grape-Nuts requires none for it contains a considerable amount of its own,—not "put there" in its making but developed by the famous Grape-Nuts method of baking, from the grains of which this food is made.

COLONEL BOMFORD IS DEAD OF PNEUMONIA

Col. George M. Bomford, who was for a time commandant of Wilbur Wright Aviation Field, and who was known to local people, died of pneumonia in France, six weeks ago.

His name was carried in Wednesday's casualty list. Col. Bomford's family had been living in Dayton since he went overseas.

PICTURE OF WILLIAM OVERHOLSER PUBLISHED

In a recent issue of the Club Woman's Magazine was a splendid picture of Sergt. William D. Overholser of Alpha, who is now in France.

He is the nephew of Mrs. Agnes C. Nichols of this city. The item was as follows:

"Sergeant Overholser, a Greene county boy, in a recent letter to his mother, Mrs. Juniata Overholser, states that he is over one hundred miles from the fighting line in France. He is satisfied with his surroundings and cheerfully accepts discipline, although he is a favorite at home with his aunts, Mrs. Agnes C. Nichols of Xenia, Ohio, and Mrs. M. B. Corwin of Cincinnati. William is the only soldier representative of the three families."

GIRLS! THICKEN AND BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

Try this! Your hair gets wavy, glossy and abundant at once.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpesive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now for a few cents—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this. adv

TWO AUTOCRATS OVERTHROWN

With the war practically over and with Prohibition—State and National—a certainty, it is truly a time for thanksgiving. God reigns and the autocracy of oppression and murder, and the autocracy of alcohol, are in ruins. It is going to be a better and a happier world. Christianity and civilization have won the greatest victories of all times. Good people everywhere rejoice over the double achievement. Let right thinking people see to it that the world remains safe for democracy and that democracy be made safe by being made permanently sober. Now is the time to keep our feet firmly on the ground. The danger has not passed. There are trying days ahead, as these twin forces of evil will make desperate efforts to wrest power from the victors and neutralize the results which have been secured. Eternal vigilance is necessary to make victory lasting.—The American Issue.

GAS SUPPLY IN STATE RAPIDLY BECOMING ACUTE

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 21—The natural gas situation in Ohio is rapidly becoming acute. The supply does not promise to be sufficient for the needs of the state, and householders who are depending upon it for heat are warned by the United States Fuel Administration for Ohio that when cold weather comes only the most rigid measures of conservation will insure anything like comfort.

Causes contributory to this are many. Few natural gas wells have been drilled in the last year, and more than the usual percentage have either failed altogether or decreased in the amount supplied. Whereas it has always been the custom heretofore to shut off a number of wells in the summer, and thus permit the gas supply to accumulate in the natural reservoirs, gas has been so greatly in demand that last summer this was not done, and there is no reserve supply for the larger consumption of cold weather.

Some localities have already taken steps to protect the domestic consumers, who in this fuel have the preference. Dayton has notified classes four and five that they cannot depend on natural gas, and announced that preference will be given consumers in private homes, hospitals, charitable institutions, hotels, bakeries and restaurants.

Other cities of the state have received the same notification, and in at least one of them the gas company has announced a total suspension of its service.

Unfortunately the extreme cold weather causes every one to turn on all the gas possible, with the result that there is not enough for anyone. Over against this is the fact that many homes especially are equipped to burn either gas or coal, and if the people so situated will use their coal heaters in cold weather, depending upon gas only for cooking, some relief will be obtained.

BLUEJACKETS TO BE MUSTERED OUT

Chicago, Nov. 21.—The first step toward mustering out bluejackets at Great Lakes Naval Training Station, were being taken today.

Captain Moffett said he construed orders from Secretary Daniels to mean that the men with dependents or business interests are to be given priority in release.

POLICE COURT

Richard Jones, colored, appeared before Police Judge Smith, Thursday morning, and entered a plea of guilty to a charge of drunk and disorderly. The judge handed him a fine of $25 and costs and ten days in the workhouse. He is now registered at the "Hotel de Horn."

Henry Proctor, who confessed Wednesday to the theft of 29 boxes of cigars from Mullen's cigar store, where he was temporarily employed as porter, was arrainged before Police Judge Smith on a charge of grand larceny and was bound over to the grand jury under bond of $500. Richard Dengess, proprietor of a restaurant at the Pennsylvania depot, who bought the cigars from Proctor, will return them to the owner. Before he was taken to the county jail, Proctor, who had been in the reformatory several times, remarked to Chief Canaday, "Well, Chief, I guess I will go to the pen and serve a few years, and when I get out I hope the city will be rid of you, so I can come back here and live in peace."

HOW A SALESMAN SUFFERED

R. J. Porter, Sterling, Col., writes: "I suffered with a painful, weak back. As a traveling salesman I had to stoop frequently to pick up my grips, and the pain when I straightened up was awful. I was induced to try Foley Kidney Pills. Relief was immediate. Say, they are great." Prompt and tonic. Sayre & Hemphill. adv

ONE DOSE RELIEVES A COLD-NO QUININE

"Pape's Cold Compound" ends bad colds or grippe in a few hours.

Relief comes instantly.

A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end grippe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness, and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed up! Quit blowing and snuffling! Ease your throbbing head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only a few cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconveniences. Be sure you get the genuine.

Telephoning in Japan.

The editor of the Japan Times says the telephone service in Japan is utterly bad. He wonders "what Job would have done had he lived in Tokyo and wanted to telephone to the specialist on boils." He concludes with the following incident: "A lady in Karuizawa called up her house in Tokyo, left by the next train, got the calls and talked to herself in Karuizawa six hours after she arrived in Tokyo. That's not a joke. It's the solemn truth."—From the East and West News.

Pleasant Old Age.

What blessings are these—that the soul having served its time, so to speak, in the campaigns of desire and ambition, rivalry and hatred, and all the passions, should live in its own thoughts and, as the expression goes, should dwell apart. Indeed, if it has in store any of what I may call the food of study and philosophy, nothing can be pleasanter than an old age of leisure.—Exchange.

PUBLIC SALES

Have your sale announced FREE in this column early, so that you may claim your date and others will stay off of it. These ads are run every day and are gratis with the large display advertising. We also furnish sale bills without charge. Let us tell you about it.

PUBLIC SALE—Saturday, November 23rd, at 10 a. m., at the Fifer Livery Barn, No. 30 East Second street, my entire livery outfit, of 15 horses, 20 buggies, 4 surries, three phaetons, 4 spring wagons, 4 coaches, 1 picnic wagon, three sleighs, 28 sets harness, Overland touring car, Ford touring car, 15 tons hay, 10 tons straw, 100 bushels oats, 50 bushels corn, etc. R. R. Grieve, Auctioneer.
N. C. J. A. FIFER.

PUBLIC SALE advertising in the Gazette and Republican bring the crowds. In the days of automobiles, the farmer has no time to stop along the road to read sale bills. He is coming to depend upon these papers to notify him of the sale dates and articles to be offered for sale. It's the buyer from a distance who sees your ad in this paper, who jumps into his auto and hustles to your sale, who pays what your stuff is worth. Your neighbor no longer can stand around and pick off what he needs at an absurd price, as he does when you have not properly advertised, and gotten a good crowd. Use the Gazette and Republican if you want the worth of everything you offer. Don't try to save on your advertising tf

PUBLIC SALE—Tuesday, Nov. 26, at 10 a. m. on the Tom Sullivan farm, 9 miles northeast of Wilmington, 2½ miles south of Port William and 2 miles west of Bloomington:—6 horses, 16 head cattle, 10 hogs, buggy, sleigh and all kinds of farming implements, one "Moline Model C Tractor." Avoid Unprofitable Moods.

Angry moods and "grouches" and their twin sisters, "grudges," serve absolutely no purpose. If some one hurts or wounds us generously forget it. Time heals the deepest cuts and makes us braver and wiser for the experience. Let us love life and its worth-while things and avoid all unprofitable moods. Otherwise happiness will never come our way, and if we search for it, it will flee from us like a phantom, for after all it is the state of our mind.

EAST END NEWS

Keep in mind the special services at Third Baptist church this coming Sabbath. Among the special features of the services will be Prof. Wm. Nix, of Chicago, Ill., a gospel singer of National reputation, who will conduct the special song service, as well as render several of his special selections. Prof. Nix is no stranger to the people of Xenia, and vicinity, having visited this city before, and charmed large audiences. You cannot afford to miss hearing him.

One of the many improvements made in East Hi is the library, which enables the students to keep in touch with important affairs, both local and general.

The students must have the literature which puts them in touch with the higher things of life. It takes money to buy tis literature and the students of the school have arranged a musical program, "The Songs of the Allies," and a pageant, "The Spirit of Democracy," for the benefit of the Library, to be given Monday night, November 25, at Zion Baptist Church.

Mrs. A. L. Cosby is attending the Baptist state convention in Dayton, Ohio, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hamilton, son and daughter-in-law of Mrs. T. A. Glym are rejoicing over the arrival of a ten pound baby boy born on Tuesday night, Nov 19th. Mother and son are getting along nicely.

Because of the non-arrival of Evangelist Howard, the revival services at St. John's A. M. E. church will discontinued for the present.

The Sunday school Board of St. John's A. M. E. church will meet at the residence of Supt. James H. Peters, Friday evening instead of Thursday evening as announced.

Elmer Holten is reported to be dangerously ill with pneumonia at his home in Columbus, Ohio. He had the influenza and went to work too soon thereafter and suffered a relapse. His recovery is despaired of.

Xenia Commandery No. 8 K. T., will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock. All fraters are urged to be present. By order of Geo. T. Simpson, E. C. D. J. Galloway, Secretary.

Miss Emma Bass died last night at 11:57 at the home of her mother, Mrs. Orlando Bass on East Market street, following an illness of about six weeks with pneumonia. She would have been thirty years old next Tuesday, Nov. 26th. She was a member of the A. M. E. church at Washington, C. H. Beside her mother, she leaves two brothers, Harry Bass with the American Expeditionary forces in France, and Hurley Bass of London, Ohio, four sisters, Mrs. J. A. McGinnis of Chillicothe, Mrs. Nellie Lewis, Misses Daisy and Opal Bass of this city. The family has lived here about two years, coming from Washington, C. H. The remains will be taken to Washington, C. H. for burial.

BRIDE-ELECT GIVEN A KITCHEN SHOWER

Miss Mabel Shaw, a bride-elect, was guest of honor at a kitchen shower at which the girls of the K. A. club were hostesses, at the home of Miss Leola Lattimer, on Bellbrook avenue, Wednesday evening.

The colors for the evening were pink and white, and a delicious little two-course supper was served at a table lighted with pink and white candles and beneath a canopy of pink and white crepe paper. The place cards were decorated with tiny umbrellas.

The gifts intended for Miss Shaw were carried into the room in a huge basket, which was decorated in pink and white.

The girls spent the rest of the evening with music and dancing.

The K. A. club is composed of girls from the Citizen's Telephone Exchange, where Miss Shaw is employed. Other geusts were Miss Elizabeth Leahey and Miss Katherine Ryan.

STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Relieves Head-Colds at Once.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head soothing and healing the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief.

Ah! how good it feels. Your nostrils are open, your head is clear, no more hawking, snuffling, blowing; no more headache, dryness or struggling for breath. Ely's Cream Balm is just what sufferers from head colds and catarrh need. It's a delight.

MEN NOW AT CAMP SHERMAN WILL NOT BE SENT OVERSEAS

CAMP SHERMAN, O., Nov. 21.—An order cancelling all previous orders for the transportation of troops now in training to overseas duty was received at camp headquarters yesterday and cast a pall of gloom over men of the Ninety-fifth division now in training here. This division under orders previously issued, was to have left for a port of embarkation Nov. 20, and training had been speeded up with this in view.

Orders amplifying others that were previously given out were received and under these only men who voluntarily enlisted "to serve during the emergency, or who were drafted or inducted to serve during the emergency shall be discharged."

"No man," the order continues, shall be discharged until the report of his physical examination has been completed." Officers holding temporary commissions and who hold no regular army commission are to be discharged as rapidly "as the interests of the service permit." camp authorities were informed by the war department today. Officers in this class desiring immediate and complete release are to be discharged first, followed by those desiring prompt release and commissions in the reserve army corps. Those desiring commissions in the regular army are to be held until the last.

XENIA CITY HAS ONLY $374.97 MORE TO RAISE IN DRIVE

Xenia city is now ready to go over the top in the United War work fund. The official figures given out by the treasurer Thursday morning show that the city is within $374.97 of the goal. The total subscription of the city today is exactly $12,126.03.

A meeting of the precinct captains has been called for this Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at which time plans will be made to raise the balance needed. If possible the city will try to raise an average $1,000 in order to take care of any shortage that may exist in any of the county precincts. In the Red Cross drive the city subscribed $13,231.40. The United War Work committee would like to make this War Work fund the largest free will offering ever made in the city by exceeding that amount.

CREEL IS GOING OVER.

Washington, Nov. 21.—"The freest and fullest flow of news," as to the peace conference, will be facilitated by George Creel, chairman, and other members of the committee on public information, going abroad.

Creel gave this assurance today in reply to congressional intimations that the cables were taken over to give the government a censorship control of peace conference news.

MEDAL FOR ITALIAN KING.

Rome, Nov. 21.—King Victor Emanuel has awarded the military medal to Rosetti Paolucci, who fired the torpedo that sunk the Austrian dreadnaught, Viribus Unitis.

KEEP DOWN COAL PRICES.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Anthracite coal prices to the consumer will not be allowed to soar unrestrictedly because of miners' wage increases, the fuel administration announced today.

MOVEMENT TO OPEN Y. M. C. A. IN XENIA IS BEING REVIVED

A movement to open the Y. M. C. A. in Xenia was launched at a meeting of the Board of Managers of the Xenia Business Men's association held Wednesday afternoon. At this meeting Mr. Jno. R. Patterson, superintendent of public schools, and two high school boys were present and brought up the subject. Mr. Patterson stated that he had prohibited the boys frequenting the poolrooms and had taken action to enforce the rule. He said that the question now arises among the boys "Where do we go from here" and is anxious that a place with proper surroundings be provided for them. He suggested that a High School boys Y. M. C. A. supervised by teachers be provided through the co-operation of the Business club and the school authorities. Marion Evler, spokesman for the boys, stated that such an arrangement would be agreeable to the boys, and he very ably presented the need for some sort of a meeting place for boys.

The proposition to re-open the Y. M. C. A. was suggested by a member of the Business club board, and it was the unanimous opinion that an effort should be made to revive this institution in Xenia. It is probable that a plan may be devised to build up the Y. M. C. A. by degrees, using the high school boy's Y. M. C. A. as a nucleus.

RESULTS ALONE COUNT

What is said below by worth-while men—Bankers and Live-stock Experts —is said about Results, not Prospects

"Passed by the Capital Issues Committee as not incompatible with the national interests, but without approval of legality, validity, worth or security. Opinion No. A-434."

J. J. Logan, President of The United States Trust & Savings Bank, of Jacksonville, Fla., says:

"When one farm wins the President's cup and two other important cups, bronze medal and seventeen ribbons at the Florida State Fair, we think it is time for his friends to offer congratulations.

I had been over your farm before the Fair opened and I knew you would make an excellent showing and give any of your competitors a stiff battle, but I believe that you have made bigger winnings than any individual or any farm has ever made at any Fair held in this State.

As one of the members of the Executive Committee of the State Fair, I want to say that I think you are entitled to the victory because you have done such a very great deal to develop the hog and cattle industry in this State and your good example will bear fruit year after year.

At the present rate of progress, Florida is going to be the biggest hog and cattle State in the Union, and I predict that when this time comes, you will still be winning cups and ribbons."

H. B. Minium, for Eleven Years State Superintendent of Armour & Co., with Headquarters at Jacksonville, Fla., says:

"There has been such marked improvement all around since I was down there one year ago that I would hardly have recognized the place. I feel that you have an opportunity of making a great success in farming and live stock raising and that your success in your Clay County venture will mean more to the general development of farming and live stock raising in Florida than any other single factor. I regard your farms as a sort of demonstration farms, showing what can be done in Florida in the way of general farming and live stock raising, and, with your permission, I am going to encourage as many of our Florida farmers and stock raisers as possible, as well as prospective investors, to visit your farms and see for themselves just what can be done."

Bion H. Barnett, President of The Barnett National Bank, of Jacksonville, Fla., says:

"Please accept my heartiest congratulations on the splendid exhibit of cattle and hogs made by you at the Florida State Fair, and the success achieved in winning the President's Cup and other valuable trophies. My personal inspection of your farms has shown me that you were entitled to the victory because the exhibit at the State Fair is truly representative of the cattle and hogs on the farms.

I feel that you are entitled to a world of credit, and as we are deeply interested in the progress of the State, I feel it a duty to send you a word of congratulation."

The Columbus (Ohio) "Dispatch" says, in a Special Feature Article From Jacksonville, Fla.:

"While there have been cattle on 1,000 hills and roaming over the 50,000 square miles of plains in Florida from time immemorial, and while hogs have been raised ever since DeSoto landed at Tampa Bay with 500 pigs nearly 400 years ago, it remained for an Ohio man to discover the real live stock potentialities of this State.

And, compared with the discovery and exploitation of the health-giving climate of Florida by the railroad building genius, Flagler, or with the discovery of the food and tonic values of grapefruit by Mrs. Frank Leslie, of publishing fame, that of the undeveloped live stock possibilities of this State by R. L. Dollings, of Ohio, must be admitted to have a greater capacity for usefulness."

Jay R. Brown, Secretary of The Illinois Live Stock Association, said, in an Address at the Ohio State University:

"I recently returned from the Southeast, where I made a study of live stock production, which is being carried on in the most economical manner that I have found anywhere in the United States. . . . The South and Southeastern country will be a breeding ground to which we of the North will look for our feeders. They will fatten a fair percentage of their output, and sell the balance in the North as feeders. Along with it, they will develop the velvet-bean meal business to an extent which will likely substitute in no small measure the present business of cotton-seed meal manufacture and sale. The big interests of the North have had their eyes on the Southeastern country for a long time."

Ed. S. Foust, of Xenia, O., Breeder of the Grand Champion Duroc Boar of the United States, says:

"Before I leave for my home in Ohio, I feel it my duty to tell you what I think of the Walkill Farms. As you know, I came here two years ago, and this visit is the first time I have returned to see the property. The development is marvelous; I would not have believed it had I not seen it with my own eyes.

I am a farmer in Ohio—have 300 acres—and I flatter myself that I know something about hogs, having bred the Grand Champion Duroc Boar of the United States; and you turned me loose on the farms and told me to go and look them over with the hog men and the cattle men and the farmers, and I want to say to you that I never saw better corn, and the hogs that you have on the place would do credit to any farm in the North.

The whole State is on fire, and it is very evident that Florida will swing into the line as one of the largest producing States in the Union in cattle and hogs. You started it all and you are reaping the reward."

Final Offering of the 7% Full Participating Preferred Stock of The Walkill Stock Farms Co.

To pay the 7% to the Preferred Stockholders requires an earning of only $2.00 an acre and to pay the 7% to both the PREFERRED and the COMMON STOCKHOLDERS requires an earning of only $3.00 an acre; and the man who THINKS will understand what this PARTICIPATING feature means.

There are one hundred good farmers in every county in Ohio who can take this fertile 14,000 acre farm, with the long pasture season (practically eleven months), the ability of the farm to produce good corn and cheap ensilage and other forage crops with which to feed Cattle, Hogs and Sheep, and earn $10.00 an acre and not regard that as the maximum by any manner of means.

There is one sure way to share in the profits of the most tremendous Live Stock development that has ever taken place in this country and which is going on today in the South, and that is to buy a PARTICIPATING PREFERRED STOCK, backed by Land, Cattle, Hogs and Sheep. Most of the WALKILL PREFERRED STOCK has been sold. If you are interested, write today.

BOLSHEVIKI DEFEATED BY ALLIED ARMY

Heavy fighting in the Dvina river section between Bolsheviki and allied forces Monday and Tuesday, is reported by the war office. The Bolsheviki attacked the allies on the front and flank Monday, penetrating several villages and forcing their way to the Canadian Battery positions, where they were held. American and British infantry then counter-attacked, throwing the enemy back with heavy ...es.

...e fighting was resumed Tuesday, Bolsheviki being defeated with ... casualties.

...shington, Nov. 21—Overthrow of ...olsheviki regime in the Ukraine ...the capture of Kiev by Cossack ...s friendly to all Russian govern... as reported today from Copen... opens the way, in the opinion ... officials here ,of important develoy...ments in Russia.

While no change in policy, either political or military, has been made by the United States, it is realized here that the holding of the Ukraine by forces friendly to the associated governments and decidedly hostile to the Bolsheviki opens a path directly into the heart of Russia, either for the dispatch of troops or of supplies for the relief of the demoralized civilian population.

BIGGEST MILITARY REVIEW IN CAMP'S HISTORY TO OCCUR

Chillicothe, Ohio, Nov. 21.—Next Tuesday morning Chillicothe will see the biggest military review in its history, even larger than the one given by the Eighty-third Division last spring, shortly before its departure for overseas. The entire force at Camp Sherman, between 25,000 and 26,000 men, will march in a farewell procession. The troops will leave Camp Sherman at 9 o'clock.

The review has been planned by the military authorities in order to give relatives and friends an opportunity to see the men in line and give them a rousing "send-off," as it is believed it will only be a matter of a few months before all of the soldiers will be discharged and returned to their homes.

The troops will be reviewed by General Smith and his entire staff, and business in Chillicothe will be suspended during the review.

The first of the 12,000 men to be discharged from the army will leave Camp Sherman for their homes next Saturday. Seven days will be required to complete the initial movement.

Special trains will carry most of the men to their homes, while others will take regular trains or traction cars.

The military authorities have not yet decided which of the development and training battalions will be demobilized. This cannot be done until Class A men are weeded out and transferred to permanent camp organizations. About 500 men daily will be discharged.

MEMORIAL TREES FOR DEAD SOLDIERS

Washington, Nov. 21.—"Memorial trees" for soldier dead in the world war, will be planted throughout the United States, next spring, according to plans of the American Forestry Association.

From every part of the country are coming endorsements by governors, women's clubs and other organizations.

HUN LOSSES HEAVY

Copenhagen, Nov. 21.—German casualties up to October 31 were 6,320,000, according to the Socialist newspaper Vorwaerts in Berlin.

They were divided as follows:

Killed	1,580,000
Wounded	4,000,000
Prisoners	490,000
Fate unknown	260,000

WRECKS OF ALLIED PRISONERS ARE NOW POURING INTO PARIS

By Fred S. Ferguson

Paris, Nov 22—Wrecks of released war prisoners are pouring into Paris.

The American Red Cross has responded to the emergency appeal for aid and is furnishing clothing and food to several thousand.

One American of the second divison, who was captured six months ago, was dressed in a ragged French uniform. He had not heard a word spoken in English since he was captured.

He wept at the sound of an American voice and begged for an American uniform.

A French soldier more than 50 years old, with white hair hanging down over his shoulders, collapsed from exhaustion, while on his way to an ambulance. He had been a prisoner for four years.

A frenchman captured at Maubeuge in 1914 did not know that America had entered the war until he was transfered to Belgium a month ago.

Survivors recount gripping stories of the streams of half starved, dying men, coming back along the roads, buoyed up solely by their visions of home.

TELEGRAPH EMPLOYES TO GET VACATIONS

Washington, Nov. 21.—All telegraph systems now under government control shall be operated as one, effective Dec. 1, Postmaster General Burleson ruled today.

This action was taken, Burleson explained "in order that the telegraph facilities may be used to the fullest extent and the transaction of messages expedited"

All offices will then "accept for transmission all classes of messages now accepted by any one of them at the prescribed rates."

At the same time Burleson ordered that after Jan. 1, all telegraph employes shall receive annual vacations with full pay.

Those in the service continuously for two years or more, will be granted two weeks' vacation. Those in the service continuously for one year, will get one week's vacation.

Vacations must be taken when assigned.

SHIPPING LOSSES IN OCTOBER SMALL

London, Nov. 21.—The smallest shipping losses through submarine warfare, during the war, were recorded during October.

During that month, 83,952 tons of British, and 93,583 tons of allied and neutral shipping were destroyed.

LAZARUS ACQUITTED.

New York, Nov. 21.—Harry Lazarus, army rail boat manufacturer, has been acquitted in the federal district court here on a charge of bribery.

Lazarus was charged with giving a bribe of $50 to Chief Inspector Charles Fuller, of the quartermaster's department, to influence his official act.

PREPARATION FOR EXPANSION OF BUSINESS IS PROBLEM OF THE U. S.

New York, Nov. 21.—"Preparation for great expansion of business at home and abroad is the present problem of the United States," Allen Walker, manager of the foreign department of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce said today.

To insure this expansion abroad, Walker emphasized the necessity for the United States industrialists to maintain the same spirit of unselfish co-operation that marked America's participation in the war rather than go back to the old methods of individualism.

Because of the world-wide demand for what the U. S. can produce, he said, there will not be a curtailment of manufacturing or unemployment problem due to the end of the war.

The factories now turning out war orders will be equipped as never before to compete with foreign producers and will require not alone what labor they now employ, but will need more help as our world trade grows.

This picture, taken in Ostend after its occupation from German troops by the allies, shows what ... of the railway station. The station was new at the beginning of the war. It was slightly damaged by the allies in their bombardment of the city and the Germans demolished it mainly to get the iron and steel to carry away with them for their own use.

"I'D HATE TO SEE YOU FIGHT."

Dayton, O., Nov. 21.—Sergeant R. F. Eddy, 16th engineers, said in a letter received by his father, Frank M. Eddy, that a football game between the engineers and the medical corps, recently played in France, was one of the wickedest he had ever witnessed. Both sides were out for blood and the fact that no one was injured he attributed to the hardened condition of the players, seasoned to many months of severe training.

About five thousand French soldiers witnessed the game, and afterward one Poilu said to Sergeant Eddy: "If that is what you Yankees call play, I'd hate to see you fight."—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

PLANS FOR FLOATING NEW SECURITIES MADE

Washington, Nov. 21.—Secretary McAdoo and members of the capital issues committee have agreed that committee should continue indefinitely its function of supervising proposed issues of stocks and bonds for capital purposes as a measure of rationing capital in preparation for the future war loans. At the same time it became known that the treasury plans tentatively to float about $8,000,000,000 more securities during 1919, and hopes to get at least $2,000,000,000 of this sum from war savings.

THIRTY EIGHT STATES OVER TOP IN DRIVE

New York, Nov. 21.—National United War Work Campaign Headquarters was without complete returns today as to the total sum contributed to the fund, but officials were confident that the nation had gone over the top with a large over-subscription.

The latest national total that headquarters had was $158,565,058, which was given out yesterday.

Hundreds of subscriptions have come in since that time and it is believed the goal has been passed.

Thirty-eight states are over the top.

RESTRICTIONS REMOVED.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Postmaster General Burleson today removed restrictions recently placed on telephone companies which limited extensions and betterments to imperative and unavoidable work, to meet war requirements.

AMERICAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION IS NOW ON SOIL OF FOUR COUNTRIES

With the Americans Advancing with Rhine, Nov. 20.—(Night)—American army of occupation is now standing on the soil of four countries, France, Belgium, Luxemburg and German Lorraine.

Today's advance resulted in the occupation of a score of villages and towns. We reached Fontoy and Vitry, in Lorraine, the latter town being only ten miles north of Metz. Further to the left Americans entered the neutual Duchy of Luxemburg, passing through Esch. American outposts are now only a few miles from the city of Luxemburg. The capital is gaily decorated with flags; the people expectantly awaiting the entry of the Americans.

The mayor of Luxemburg crossed the line in an automobile and paid his respects to General Pershing at Longuyon, which is now his headquarters.

Michigan and Wisconsin troops, which led the way into Luxemburg received an ovation along every foot of their march.

In German Lorraine, the Americans were welcomed by the inhabitants of French extraction. Those of German descent looked on sullenly.

The impotent town of Arlon, in Belgium, remembering America's food and relief work throughout the war gave our troops an extraordinarily warm greeting.

It was not uncommon to see dough boys carrying one or two children with chattering French or German girls and boys walking alongside.

The Germans left some staff officers to arrange for handing over the materials left at Longuyon. This included 49 locomotives, 300 guns and thousands of rifles.

The roads near the Luxemburg frontier are lined with surrendered cannon.

OWNERSHIP BY GOVERNMENT IS FAVORED

Washington, Nov. 21.—Resolution committing the senate to government ownership of all public utilities and of "natural agencies for the production of fuel," was introduced today by Senator Lewis, Democratic whip.

"It is the expression of the senate," said the resolution, "that the policy of the United States government for the future,, should be that of government ownership of interstate railroads, telegraphs, telephones and all national lines of communication, necessary to complete postal and telegraphic service to the citizens of the nation.

"The government should possess and own all natural agencies for the production of fuel produced in the land and created as the result of natural agencies. It shall construct and own ships and agencies of water transportation necessary for merchant marines."

PRESENT SESSION OF CONGRESS TO CLOSE THURSDAY

COL. ROOSEVELT REPLIES TO NOTE

Paris, Nov. 21.—Henry Rouselle, vice-president of the municipal council of Paris, has made public the following message received from Colonel Roosevelt, replying to a cablegram of condolence on the death of Lieutenant Quenten Roosevelt.

"I am profoundly touched by the cablegram you sent me in the name of the municipal council of Paris. I thank you for your sympathy. The death of our son is a bitter affliction, but this affliction would have been more bitter if our boy had not had an ardent desire to face death for such a noble cause. You will not forget that he was given the name of a French ancestor who left France 225 years ago."

BELGIANS RAPIDLY ARE RE-OCCUPYING THEIR COUNTRY

London, Nov. 21.—The Belgians rapidly carrying out the re-occupation of their country, have advanced more than fifty miles from the lines held by them when the armistice was signed. They have entered Turnhout, 24 miles northeast and Herenthals, 18 miles east of Antwerp.

Both the Americans and the British have advanced about thirty miles, while the French have penetrated forty miles into former German territory,, occupying Saarbrucken.

The general line of the allied advance apparently is as follows:

Turnhout, Herenthals, Antwerp, Brussels, Jemeppe, Givet, Wancennes, Longlier L' Eglise, Arabay-La-Vielle, Arlon, Esch, Vitry, St. Avold, Kochern, Gorbach, Saarbrucken, Zabern, Obernay, Neubreisach, and the line of the Rhine to the Swiss border.

GERMAN NAVY IS NOW IN HANDS OF THE ALLIED FLEET

London, Nov. 21—(12:30 p. m.)—The German fleet has surrendered to the Grand fleet, the British admiralty announced today.

The American battle squadron and French cruisers and destroyers participated in the ceremony.

The German high-seas fleet, comprising ten dreadnoughts, six battle cruisers, ten light cruisers, and a number of destroyers, was to meet the allied fleet in the North Sea, off the English coast, for the formal ceremony of surrender.

According to plans, the German warships were to pass down a long lane of allied craft. The surrender was to be received personally by Admiral Beatty, commander of the British Grand Fleet. Admiral Rodman is the American commander.

Four hundred allied vessels, the biggest fleet ever assembled, are reported to have met the Germans. The fleet included five American dreadnaughts.

The surrender is understood to have taken place at a point about 60 miles east of May Isle.

The German fleet followed the prescribed plan in surrendering, with the exception of one ship, which is now enroute.

The following German warships, under the terms of the armistice were expected to comprise the fleet turned over to the allies:

Dreadnoughts.

Name	Tonnage
Bayern	28,000
Konig	25,800
Grosser Kerfurst	25,800
Kron Prinz	25,800
Markgraf	25,800
Kaiser	24,700
Kaiserin	24,700
Fred'd Der Grosse	24,700
Konig Albert	24,700
Prinz Regent Luitpold	24,700

Battle Cruisers.

Hindenburg	27,600
Bismarck	27,600
Derfflinger	26,600
Seydlitz	25,000
Moltke	23,000
Von Der Tann	19,400

Light Cruisers.

Emden	5,400
Frankfurt	5,400
Bremese	4,000
Brummer	4,000

Four others.

Fifty destroyers and all the German submarines are also to be turned over to the allies.

The warships surrendered today carried 538 heavy guns and much small armament.

PRIORITY RATING CANCELLED

Washington, Nov. 21—Priority ratings, except those for the navy, the emergency fleet corporations, railroads, telegraphs and telephone companies, have been cancelled, the priorities division of the war industries board announced today.

Paris, Nov. 21.—King Albert and Queen Elizabeth will make their formal entry into Brussels tomorrow, a Bruges dispatch to L'Information stated today.

The Belgian government was transferred from Bruges to Brussels today.

VERSAILLES IS MAKING TOILET FOR PEACE CONFERENCE

Paris, Nov. 21.—While Versailles is making its toilet for the peace congress, the problem of secrecy or no secrecy, censorship or no censorship is taking on great importance.

Senator Borah's statement that everything must be done under the eyes of the public is receiving such comment, especially it is understood that President Wilson has the same sentiments.

It is pointed out that the American censorship has been abolished and the British newspapers are permitted to publish what is not allowed in France. It is now urged that there be an inter-allied agreement concerning what shall be published about the peace negotiations. Public opinion here generally inclines toward secrecy, on the ground that the Germans will exploit to the fullest extent the slightest lack of harmony. However, many declare the Wilsonian policy of open diplomacy ought to begin at Versailles.

HUNGARAY AGREES ON NAME

Budapest, Hungary, Nov. 21.—The government has decided that the official title be the "Huganian People's Republic."

TOTAL SUBSCRIPTION TO THE FOURTH LOAN $6,989,047,000

Washington, November 21.—Total subscriptions to the fourth liberty loan were $6,989,047,000, the Treasury Department announced after final tabulations had been completed. The over subscription of $989,047,000 was 16.48 per cent.

Every Federal district exceeded its allotted quota.

This makes the fourth liberty loan by far the greatest war loan ever floated by this or any other Government.

For the fourth consecutive time in the last 18 months the American people have given more than the Government asked to finance the war program. Including the four liberty loans and war savings, the nation has raised $17,852,000,000 in popular loans and this does not take into consideration oversubscriptions which were not accepted.

Reports by districts arranged in order of their oversubscription percentages, are as follows:

District	Subscriptions	Pct.
Boston	$632,221,850	126.4
Richmond	352,688,200	126.9
Philadelphia	598,763,650	119.7

ALL LORRAINE IS OVERJOYED TO HAVE FRENCH RULE AGAIN

By Frank J. Taylor.

Metz, Nov. 20.—(Night)—Peasants and trades people were the loudest in their cheers when the French resumed control of Lorraine.

The reason is that most of the workers are native Lorrainers and heartily pro-French.

There was only the mildest enthusiasm among former office holders and professional men. These are mostly from Germany and had a monopoly on the job with fat salaries.

Many of them intend to stay under French control, apparently. They say they would learn to become French and would welcome the new liberty. The German population appears to be almost as friendly toward Americans as the French. It seemed that everybody had questions to ask concerning relatives in the United States. The French armies will enter Strassburg Sunday.

ACTION IS TAKEN ABOUT REMOVAL OF XENIA SEMINARY

The Second Synod of the United Presbyterian church, at its meeting in Dayton, Wednesday, took action about Xenia Theological Seminary, which will be of interest to many people of this county.

The General Assembly, which met in Pittsburgh, last May, passed by a small majority a recommendation to the Synods having control respectively of the Pittsburg and Xenia Seminaries that they take into consideration the union of the two.

While the Assembly said nothing about where the united seminary should be located, of course everyone knows. According to the constitution of Xenia Seminary the Second Synod (Indiana and Western Ohio) has the final voice in any proposed change of location.

The Synod yesterday in effect declined to take steps toward the proposed union, because it is believed that at the opening of the great reconstruction period the United Presbyterian Church should not decrease the number of its agencies for furnishing trained men, and that the return of peace will mean increased seminary attendance. By another resolution the Synod expressed its willingness to consider any proposition offering promise of a larger usefulness for Xenia Seminary.

Steps were also taken looking toward a possible union of Xenia Seminary with Erskine Seminary of the Associate Reformed Church of the South, which seminary is located at Due West, S. C. In this case, there would probably be a removal to some western city. The merger of seminaries just mentioned is incidental to a possible union of the Associate Reformed Church South, with the United Presbyterian Church, a union desired by many in both churches for a long time, and now again widely spoken of with hope and longing.

PREACHER SENT TO PRISON.

Rockford, Ill., Nov. 21.—The Church of the Brethren in Whiteside County, Illinois, was without a pastor, today. Rev. David E. Gerdes, was sentenced yesterday to 10 years in the penitentiary by Federal Judge K. M. Landis, on charged of preaching sedition.

One of the congregation, John D. Manus, was given a three year sentence.

Mr. Ollie Smith, of South Detroit street, mashed his thumb on his left hand Thursday morning while working in the yards of the Pennsylvania railroad, where he is employed. Dr. Spahr dressed the injury.

SAYS THIS CURED HIS LUNG TROUBLE

Mr. Morgan passes insurance examinations now, and feels perfectly well.

"In 1908, my lungs became so badly affected I had to give up my work. I coughed all the time and finally had hemorrhages twice a day. My lungs and shoulders ached so I could hardly live. Two physicians told me I had consumption, said they could do no good, and advised me to change climate.

"Finally a friend gave me a bottle of Milks Emulsion. It did me so much good that I continued taking it, and in 4 months it cured me sound as a dollar.

"My lungs are now as strong as ever, I weigh 147 pounds, which is more than I ever weighed before. I work all the time, can expand my chest six inches, and am able to pass lodge and insurance examinations without any trouble." —Otto Morgan, 420 Pearl St., Terre Haute, Ind.

It is not claimed that all advanced cases of this kind are curable, nor that any such case is curable. But Milks Emulsion costs nothing to try in any case, and it has restored hundreds of hopeless victims to health.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of asthma, chronic bronchitis and tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold and guaranteed by Sayre & Hemphill.

THEATERS

BIJOU.

Norbert Wicki, a Polish actor of nation-wide prominence among the Poles of this country, was chosen by J. Stuart Blackton, the famous motion picture director of "The Battle Cry of Peace," and other film spectacles, to portray the role of Jethro Fawe, the gypsy lover in the "World for Sale," which has been adapted for the screen for Paramount, and which is to be shown at the Bijou theater, on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 22 and 23. Mr. Wicki has scored many previous successes with Mary Pickford, Norma Talmadge, Alice Brady and others.

ORPHIUM.

Roy Stewart, Triangle's popular western star, appears in another of the highly amusing and original Red Saunders stories at the Orphium theater, Friday, Nov. 22. This new story is called "The Fly God," and is said to be as amusing and interesting as "A Red Haired Cupid," in which Mr. Stewart last appeared.

OPERA HOUSE.

The Shannon Stock Company comes to Xenia again for its annual three day appearance, Monday, the 25th, playing the "Daughter of Uncle Sam," a popular war drama, the first of the three plays to be given.

A unique feature of this company this year is its service flag, which displays 26 stars for the men Uncle Sam has claimed from the troupe, band and orchestra.

Hazel Shannon, as usual, is playing the lead in the five or six stock dramas, and while Harry Jr., and "Red" Subier are overseas with the army, talent of the same splendid quality has been substituted and the quality of the show will no doubt be up to the standard. Seats at Sohn's drug store, Saturday.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish through the Gazette to thank our kind neighbors and dear friends for their kindness in every way, and also for the many beautiful floral offerings sent to us in our hours of bereavement.

Human Need of Change.

We all need a change, and often when we are ailing it is all we do need. Perhaps cyclic phenomena in human conduct, such as periodic alcoholism, are the result of nothing more than the unbearable craving for a decided change, and some other experience might be substituted for the spree, Nor does this principle apply solely to what we are pleased to term mental ailments. How often the sick room is lacking in change; the bed is kept in the same spot, the objects in the room are never shifted, old subjects of conversation are worn threadbare, etc.

LAXATIVE for Aged People

THE BANE of old age is constipation. The bowels become weak and unable to perform their functions without aid. For this purpose only the mildest and gentlest laxative should be used. The use of harsh cathartics aggravates the trouble and makes the constipation worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are a favorite with people of middle age and older on account of their gentle action.

What Determines Meat and Live-Stock Prices?

Some stock men still think that Swift & Company—and other big packers—can pay as little for live-stock as they wish.

Some consumers are still led to believe that the packers can charge as much for dressed meat as they wish.

This is not true. These prices are fixed by a law of human nature as old as human nature itself—the law of supply and demand.

When more people want meat than there is meat to be had, the scramble along the line to get it for them sends prices up. When there is more meat than there are people who want it, the scramble all along the line to get rid of it within a few days, while it is still fresh, sends prices down.

When prices of meat go up, Swift & Company not only can pay the producer more, but has to pay him more, or some other packer will.

Similarly, when prices recede all down the line Swift & Company cannot continue to pay the producer the same prices as before, and still remain in the packing business.

All the packer can do is to keep the expense of turning stock into meat at a minimum, so that the consumer can get as much as possible for his money, and the producer as much as possible for his live-stock.

Thanks to its splendid plants, modern methods, branch houses, car routes, fleet of refrigerator cars, experience and organization, Swift & Company is able to pay for live cattle 90 per cent of what it receives for beef and by-products, and to cover expense of production and distribution, as well as its profit (a small fraction of a cent per pound), out of the other 10 per cent.

ANOTHER CEDARVILLE SOLDIER MAKES THE SUPREME SACRIFICE

A second of Cedarville's colored youths, made the supreme sacrifice for his country in France, when Leotus Broadus, died of influenza, a few weeks ago. Official notice of his death was received Wednesday from the government by his mother, Mrs. Hannah Broadus.

Young Broadus, was familiarly called "Duck" by his associates in Cedarville, where he spent all his life. Before entering the service a year ago he was employed at Ralph Wolford's blacksmith shop. He was attached to the 813th Pioneer Regiment, and went overseas after being in camp only a few weeks. He is survived by his mother and three sisters.

BOY BRIDE-GROOM NOT DELINQUENT DECLARES COURT

Before Judge J. C. Marshall dismissed the charge of delinquency against Errol Rayburn, 16 year old bridegroom, in Juvenile Court, Thursday morning, he took occasion to give a homily on proper exercise of parental authority, the objects of his remarks being the parents of the youth and his 14 year old bride, Mildred Dever Rayburn.

The youth was before the court on a delinquincy charge filed by Noah Dever, father of his little bride, who alleged that he struck and knocked down Mrs. Fitch, grandmother of his bride, during an argument between the two families, resulting from the boy and girl marriage.

The court found that the lad was not delinquent. That he had not struck Mrs. Fitch, and that the boy was telling the truth when he said that during the excitement he jerked away from some one who grabbed his shoulder, and that he turned and saw Mrs. Fitch stagger backward and fall on the sidewalk. Prosecuting Attorney Harry D. Smith recommended that the charge be dismissed. There was nothing to show that the lad was delinquent, he said, and the charge against him was filed in the excitement following the unfortunate circumstance resulting from the natural consternation of the two families over the marriage.

Owing to the action pending in the common pleas court to annul the marriage, it would be best to have no further notoriety attach to the youthful parties.

Judge Marshall dismissed the charge and told the parents that a continuance of the exercise of parental authority would be an excellent thing, and with the annulment of the marriage, both children should be returned to school.

"When they have reached the proper age, if they are still of the same mind, then it is time enough for them to consider marriage," he said.

Upon this remark of the court, the youthful pair exchanged loving smiles and glances at each other behind the backs of papa and mama.

Tells How to Stop a Bad Cough

Surprising results from this famous old home-made syrup. Easily prepared and costs little.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with croup and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This recipe makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds.

There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Music's Vitalizing Force.

Two facts are made clear about music at the moment. There is a new vitality discernible in the art itself, and there is a new and increasingly urgent need for it. When a nation does no more than rise and stretch itself, an increased circulation may be felt. The music of this stage may be no more than a yawn of gigantic being. But when the mind of the nation realizes that a huge task is thrust upon it, the energizing processes are apparent in every vital department. These processes music shares to a pre-eminent degree because of its communicative nature. It is not only vital in itself; it is actually a vitalizing force. And the simple truth seems to be that an awakened nation will always choose to sing at its work and will be the happier and more efficient for it.—London Times.

"VERSAILLES THE BEAUTIFUL."

Versailles, France, where the Armistice court was held, and where the "Peace Table" will be spread in December, is a very notable place. It is twelve miles from Paris and long renowned as the seat of Royalty, where many of the Kings once lived. The city proper has a population of 60,000 or 70,000, but its chief attraction is the noted palace.

Stoddard says if a tourist would give but five minutes to each apartment of this palace, it would take him three days, of five hours each, to pass through the rooms.

On the central balcony of this palace, after the death of each king, the officer of the royal bed chamber appeared and broke his wand of office, crying "The King is dead." Then taking up another wand he exclaimed "Long Live the King."

The palace was made notable at one time as the residence of Queen Marie Antonette, just before the great revolution, which eventually put Napoleon, the First, in the chair as Emperor. But poor Marie Antonette, having had a weak husband, who let the good of the nation "go to the dogs," was with him beheaded, Oct. 16, 1793. She was a great friend of Lafayette, and of the American colonies. It is somewhat notable just now that she came to the throne of France under circumstances like those through which Europe has just been passing—ill-will of the nations towards each other. Her mother, Queen Marie Theresa, of Austria, determined upon her marriage to the French Dauphin, with a view of strengthening Austria against Prussia.

And does it not seem another illustration of the "Irony of Fate," that right in beautiful Versailles, where royalty and monarchy had long reigned; and right in the very spot where the now dethroned and dishonored kaiser had himself crowned Emperor of Germany, should soon be taking place the "Peace Table," which is to be a new Declaration of Independence—a Declaration of Independence for a world—a world long under the crushing heel of fellows who claimed to be "born to rule."

So, hereafter there will be no further announcements from the Versailles palace balcony "The King is dead—long live the King—but instead "The King is dead—long live Liberty."

DON'T LIKE SETTING BACK THE CLOCKS.

When all the world of the United States "set back the clocks" an hour, on the last Sabbath of October, there was general expression of concurrence in the wisdom of Congress that gave the change of time, spring and fall. We had not heard any dissent from this until this week, when we read a communication in another paper, from a farmer, who makes out a good case of showing that "you can please some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time, but you can't please all the people all the time."

He says: "Nearly all the papers assume that this so-called "daylight saving" is an unalloyed blessing. It may have been beneficial in the cites, but the farmer and dweller in the rural village found it a nuisance. Farm work can not be successfully done by other than sun time. In consequence, though the farmer's watch might say one time, he worked by another; in consequence nothing could begin in the evening before nine and it was oftener half past nine before the people assembled and we found that we could not begin church Sabbath evening before eight-thirty. This year the country people accepted the change as a war measure, and put up with it, with but little complaint; and if the war continues they will do the same another year. But be assured that when the urge of war is over there will be a very urgent demand to stay on sun time; and if the demand is unsuccessful the conditions of our boyhood will return, when there was local time and railroad time. The country folks will have and go by sun time, even if they have to use the other to take trains and do part of their business."

Ever Think of It?

Electricity can run through very slender wires. And the energies of saving grace can enter the life through the medium of a very unfinished creed. —Christian Herald.

A BIG BILL FOR GERMANY TO PAY.

Two main objects led Germany to launch the campaign of unrestricted submarine warfare even at the risk of bringing the United States into the conflict. The more obvious of course, was to starve out England and prevent the transportation of her troops and supplies. The other, of secondary importance while the war lasted, was to pave the way for gaining commercial supremacy when the war was over. The sinking of enemy tonnage is of course a legitimate war measure, though Germany made it illegitimate by destroying life as well. But the sinking of neutral tonnage is a breach of international law, whether lives are lost or not. Germany did this for no other purpose than to wipe out commerical rivals. Thus Norway is her chief rival in the shipping business among the neutrals, and Norwegian ships have suffered more than any other. The war was from the first a business enterprise on Germany's part, and this line was to be one of the most profitable.

The Allies have the first claim on German shipping. None others should be admitted until theirs is satisfied. In the armistice with Austria a surrender of the Austrian navy is provided for; and nothing less can be asked of Germany. But Germany has a large merchant marine partly interned in neutral countries, partly safe in her own ports, partly taken over by the Allied countries. In ordinary circumstances all her ships would be returned to her after the war, with payment for their use if they had been used, or for their purchase if it was desired to buy them. We have under the American flag a large German fleet for which Germany has the right to ask an equivalent in money. Without denying that right we shall have also a right to deduct from the debt full compensation for all the losses inflicted by Germany upon Allied commerce. All the Allied nations will have the same right. It may be that the German tonnage now in Allied or neutral hands will not suffice to pay the bill.

Everyday Etiquette

"I have never known what is the proper thing to do when one is entertaining and a guest comes in late. Won't you please tell us," pleaded Mrs. Youngwife.

"If the guest is a woman, the hostess should rise and shake hands and receive apologies amiably. If the guest is a man she need not rise. The host, however, rises, comes forward, assists in seating the delinquent and endeavors, by making general conversation, to distract attention from the incident. The guest is expected to take up the dinner at the point where he arrived," said her aunt.

MOTORAIDS

The motorcycle with the sidecar attachment is coming into great popularity since the war began, as it has proven such a great convenience in army camps and about military offices.

Most dealers at present sell motorcycles on the installment plan, so that many who could not otherwise afford a motor vehicle, are able to indulge in a motor cycle. For many a workman they save car fare in going to and from work, and, when employment is away from a car line, the motor cycle is invaluable. It is always available, too, and will work all day Sunday just as well as on the other six days of the week.

Their consumption of gasoline is small and no garage expense is needed to stable such a steed. They will travel anywhere and on many roads that a motor car would not attempt, owing to its size.

Fair Warning.

Bob's brother, seeking revenge, had put grass in his sister's slippers after they had been cleaned. Later in the afternoon Bob discovered the mischief and as his sister was about to put on the slippers he came swiftly running toward her, crying out as he did so: "Don't put them on. There's a bird's nest inside and you'll kill the young ones!"

"THE WIFE"

By JANE PHELPS

BRIAN REMAINS OUT ALL NIGHT. RUTH IS ANXIOUS.

CHAPTER XCIV.

Breakfast time came and yet Brian had not returned. Ruth drank some strong coffee and made ready for the office. Had something happened to Brian, or— Once the thought came to her that she would call Mrs. Curtis, get Mollie King's address, and call her and ask if she knew where Brian was. But her pride intervened. If he should be—if he had remained out with her so late that he thought best to go to some down town hotel instead of coming home, Ruth would only have humbled herself unnecessarily. Or if Mollie had not seen him and Brian was with someone elese, she would have let Mollie see her anxiety and that would be almost as bad.

Ruth looked so pale and worried when she reached the store that Mandel, the moment he had welcomed her back, asked if she were ill. He had not mentioned the business upon which she had been engaged. Her appearance alarmed him.

"No, I am not ill. I didn't sleep well," she could not avoid contrasting his very evident regard for her with Brian's seeming carelessness. He looked anxious, too. His voice had held real concern. It made Brian's affection the more glaring.

That noon she went home during the lunch hour something she never did. She thought—hoped—there might be some word of Brian. But although she pocketed her pride and questioned Rachel, there was nothing.

Should she call his office? Her pride said "no," her anxiety "yes." There were many accidents in New York streets, due to careless driving of motor cars and other causes. Brian might have been hurt. She called his office, unable to endure the thought. He might even then be lying in some hospital.

"No, Mr. Hackett went out about half an hour ago. Who shall I tell him called?"

"Never mind, I'll call again." Ruth had no need to try to disguise her voice. No one would have recognized it. She started back to the shop, quivering in every nerve, angry, anxious, undetermined what to do—what attitude to take toward him when he came home.

"Perhaps I've been too lenient. Too easy," she said to herself as she hurried back to her work. She again had been unable to eat, and had only taken a cup of strong tea. Every nerve in her body was aquiver with her emotion. Yet she could not decide what to do. Finally she made up her mind that for once she would question Brian. He must tell her where he had been and with whom. Then she thought: "He may not come up to the apartment again tonight. He doesn't know I am at home." And acting upon impulse she stopped in a public telephone booth and again called the office. Brian had not yet returned, but she left word to tell him that his wife was at home. The girl promised to tell him as soon as he came in.

In a measure relieved, Ruth continued on her way to the store. All the afternoon Mandel watched her closely, and was unusually thoughtful, even for him. Ruth appreciated his care for her as never before. The difference between his anxious care and Brian's indifference, hurt her, yet she was soothed that SOMEONE thought of her, even if Brian didn't.

"You'd better stop for the day," Mandel said to her about half past four. "My car is at the door. I shall not need it for another hour. My chauffeur will take you home. Let him drive you through the park. It will do you good."

Ruth often had refused to use her employer's car. But she was almost distraught over Brian's absence the night before. It would do her good to take a drive in the park. She perhaps could think things out better there where everything was so peaceful and quiet.

She thanked Mandel, and he looked so pleased when she accepted his offer, that she almost changed her mind. But, the prospect was too tempting, so she allowed him to assist her into the car and nodded assent when he said to the chauffeur: "Take Mrs. Hackett home. Go through the park. I shall not need you for an hour or more," then he turned to Ruth: "Unless you feel perfectly all right, don't try to work tomorrow. You look really ill."

Tears stood in Ruth's eyes. His kindness had touched her. She was weak from her long fast, in addition to her worry. She brushed them quickly away, but not before he had seen them and speculated upon their cause.

But before she had been riding long, she recovered her poise. She must not let Brian see her with red eyes. So she leaned back in the luxurious car, and really felt almost like herself again when the chauffeur turned into her street.

As he drew up to the curb in front of the apartment, Brian rounded the corner. When she stepped out, he was almost at the door. He stopped in amazement. Then a sarcastic smile curled his lips as he turned and assisted her from the car, saying:

"The telephone operator told me you were at home so I came early."

Tomorrow—Ruth and Brian Quarrel.

Charm of a Rabbit Foot.

An explanation of the marvelous and mysterious properties of the rabbit foot as a good luck piece is to be found in the fact that witchcraft regarded the rabbit as a particularly mystical animal. The favorite disguise of the witches of old was to take the form of a rabbit—a close second was the cat—and records again and again show convictions and executions of women for the fearful crime of changing themselves into rabbits. A rabbit foot was a potent charm against the evil spells of the witch-rabbit.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Noah's Ark a Good Model.

A good word for Noah's prescience as a shipbuilder is found in an allusion to his ark in "Nauticus." "It would not be a difficult task," says that journal, "to pick out of Lloyd's Register many ships built within the last twenty years whose dimensions suggest a form closely resembling that of Noah's ark. According to the dimensions given in the Bible as translated in terms of modern measurement, the ark was 480 feet long, 80 feet wide, and 48 feet deep. Her tonnage was 11,413, and she had plenty of room for pairs of all the distinct species of animals that are classed by Buffon—244—and she could have accommodated a thousand persons and then had plenty of room for the storage of supplies."

CONGREGATIONAL DINNER IS MOST ENJOYABLE EVENT

A Harvest Home idea prevailed in the decorations at the congregational dinner which was held at Trinity church, Wednesday night.

The three long tables were centered by miniature corn shocks, about which were placed small pumpkins and golden ears of corn.

One hundred and ninety persons were present, and most of them were seated at once about the tables, where a very bountiful and delicious dinner, prepared by the women of the congregation, was served.

There was no program of speeeches, the evening being passed by the members of the congregation in visiting with each other.

Two charming little girls, Clara and Betty Clevenger, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clevenger of Dayton, delighted the gathering with their musical performance. The children, the elder of whom is eight and the younger six years of age, are regarded as prodigies in a musical way. Both play the piano with great skill. The younger child has been taking lessons since she was four and a half years of age, and she reads music fluently and plays with much skill. She learns very rapidly, and in her own words, plays "grown up music."

The precocious little ones received much attention from their audience.

Rev. and Mrs. George Vorhis of Springfield, were among the guests at the dinner.

Cave Dwellers in France.

In prehistoric times, when man had to fight with wild beasts not only for food but for life, he found a welcome refuge in grottoes and caverns. But as soon as humanity had achieved some degree of progress in civilization our ancestors forsook these primitive natural shelters for more comfortable dwellings. Our readers, therefore, remarks the Scientific American, doubtless imagine that the troglodyte ceased to exist many centuries ago, at any rate in Europe. Yet even today there may be found Frenchmen who live underground only a few hundred kilometers from Paris.

German professor private in German army.

This photo gives a good idea of the condition of the German troops just before hostilities ceased. The German private shown was a professor before he was needed to fill the thinning ranks of the Hun army. Now, unkempt and laden down with luggage, he is buying something to eat to satisfy the hunger that thin army "soup" wouldn't end.

BIBLE CONFERENCE OPENS AT REFORMED CHURCH WEDNESDAY

The Bible Conference at the First Reformed church opened Wednesday evening. Rev. George E. Guille, of the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago led in a study of the Exaltation of Jesus. He gave a beautiful exposition of the opening chapter of the Book of Hebrews, showing how the Savior "finished the work which the Father had given Him to do." Those present were wonderfully happy in this beautiful study. The service this evening will be at 7:30. A welcome to all. Come and bring your friends and bring your Bibles.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR W. THOMAS LITTLE

On Friday evening, Nov. 22, at 7:30 o'clock, a memorial service will be held in the chapel of the theological seminary for Mr. W. Thomas Little, who died on October 1, from wounds received in action in the Argonne region in France.

Brief addresses will be made by classmates and friends of Mr. Little, at the conclusion of which his portrait will be thrown upon a screen and "taps" will be sounded by the bugler of the Home cadets. It is desired that all friends and former acquaintances of the brave soldier boy who has given his life to the great cause, attend.

Peppercorns and India.

The rise in the prices of spices recalls that it was a similar attempt in the time of Queen Elizabeth, says the London Chronicle, which led to the establishment of the British empire in India. The Dutch then held the monopoly of trade with India. At one fell swoop they raised the price of pepper from 3s to 6s a pound. Thereupon a meeting of merchants in London was called to protest against "the most unchristian price of pepper," with the result that there was formed in 1599 the famous old East India company which from supplying English cruets with pepper passed insensibly to the conquest and government of a sub-continent.

HEARD FROM OUR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS

Mrs. Jacob Diehl, of Yellow Springs, received the following letter from her son Jacob, who is now at Camp Taylor, Ky.

Camp Taylor, Ky., Oct. 26, 1918.

Dear Mother:—Its drizzling rain this afternoon and as its rather dead around here will send you a few lines. Have been wondering for several days if the "flu" has hit Yellow Springs. It sure is prevalent in Kentucky and especially at Camp Taylor. However the authorities are getting it well under control and every one believes it will only be a short time until it will be entirely eliminated, at least we all hope so.

I have been working in a ward about a week where we have about 81 patients. The majority of them have the "flu" but the nurse said this morning they were all recovering nicely and would soon be turned out. It isn't the most pleasant place to work for the first few days but after that we get used to hearing their troubles and enjoy waiting on them.

Just happened to run across Edgar Brown the other night. He has been transferred from the Sixth Co. to the Field Artillery and expects to go across soon. He was feeling fine and we enjoyed a few minutes conversation very much.

Army life seems to be quite the right thing for me, as I am feeling fine, eating three square meals a day and gaining flesh all the time. It is surprising how good the eats are as it looks almost impossible to feed such a large body of men, but Uncle Sam has system thoroughly enforced and is able to carry out many big ventures. In fact none are too big for Uncle Sam.

Camp Taylor extends over a large area and covers hundreds of acres of good Kentucky soil which might raise corn were it not for the Camp. I am informed the soldiers here number about 60,000 at this time including colored troops and the Officers Training Camp, which is within itself a big institution. Officers at the rate of 500 are graduated from the school every two weeks and more are coming in all the time.

The Camp is beautifully located about six miles south east of Louisville, about a thirty minute ride on the street car and about twenty minutes by jitney. The jitneys are not so well patronized the last few weeks as only a certain per cent can go to Louisville on account of the epidemic. But no more for now as I must work a while. Don't forget to write me when you have a few spare moments.

"VERSAILLES THE BEAUTIFUL."

Versailles, France, where the Armistice court was held, and where the "Peace Table" will be spread in December, is a very notable place. It is twelve miles from Paris and long renowned as the seat of Royalty, where many of the Kings once lived. The city proper has a population of 60,000 or 70,000, but its chief attraction is the noted palace.

Stoddard says if a tourist would give but five minutes to each apartment of this palace, it would take him three days, of five hours each, to pass through the rooms.

On the central balcony of this palace, after the death of each king, the officer of the royal bed chamber appeared and broke his wand of office, crying "The King is dead." Then taking up another wand he exclaimed "Long Live the King."

The palace was made notable at one time as the residence of Queen Marie Antonette, just before the great revolution, which eventually put Napoleon, the First, in the chair as Emperor. But poor Marie Antonette, having had a weak husband, who let the good of the nation "go to the dogs," was with him beheaded, Oct. 16, 1793. She was a great friend of Lafayette, and of the American colonies. It is somewhat notable just now that she came to the throne of France under circumstances like those through which Europe has just been passing—ill-will of the nations towards each other. Her mother, Queen Marie Theresa, of Austria, determined upon her marriage to the French Dauphin, with a view of strengthening Austria against Prussia.

And does it not seem another illustration of the "Irony of Fate," that right in beautiful Versailles, where royalty and monarchy had long reigned; and right in the very spot where the now dethroned and dishonored kaiser had himself crowned Emperor of Germany, should soon be taking place the "Peace Table," which is to be a new Declaration of Independence—a Declaration of Independence for a world—a world long under the crushing heel of fellows who claimed to be "born to rule."

So, hereafter there will be no further announcements from the Versailles palace balcony "The King is dead—long live the King—but instead "The King is dead—long live Liberty."

DON'T LIKE SETTING BACK THE CLOCKS.

When all the world of the United States "set back the clocks" an hour, on the last Sabbath of October, there was general expression of concurrence in the wisdom of Congress that gave the change of time, spring and fall. We had not heard any dissent from this until this week, when we read a communication in another paper, from a farmer, who makes out a good case of showing that "you can please some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time, but you can't please all the people all the time."

He says: "Nearly all the papers assume that this so-called "daylight saving" is an unalloyed blessing. It may have been beneficial in the cites, but the farmer and dweller in the rural village found it a nuisance. Farm work can not be successfully done by other than sun time. In consequence, though the farmer's watch might say one time, he worked by another; in consequence nothing could begin in the evening before nine and it was oftener half past nine before the people assembled and we found that we could not begin church Sabbath evening before eight-thirty. This year the country people accepted the change as a war measure, and put up with it, with but little complaint; and if the war continues they will do the same another year. But be assured that when the urge of war is over there will be a very urgent demand to stay on sun time; and if the demand is unsuccessful the conditions of our boyhood will return, when there was local time and railroad time. The country folks will have and go by sun time, even if they have to use the other to take trains and do part of their business."

Ever Think of It?

Electricity can run through very slender wires. And the energies of saving grace can enter the life through the medium of a very unfinished creed. —Christian Herald.

A BIG BILL FOR GERMANY TO PAY.

Two main objects led Germany to launch the campaign of unrestricted submarine warfare even at the risk of bringing the United States into the conflict. The more obvious of course, was to starve out England and prevent the transportation of her troops and supplies. The other, of secondary importance while the war lasted, was to pave the way for gaining commercial supremacy when the war was over. The sinking of enemy tonnage is of course a legitimate war measure, though Germany made it illegitimate by destroying life as well. But the sinking of neutral tonnage is a breach of international law, whether lives are lost or not. Germany did this for no other purpose than to wipe out commerical rivals. Thus Norway is her chief rival in the shipping business among the neutrals, and Norwegian ships have suffered more than any other. The war was from the first a business enterprise on Germany's part, and this line was to be one of the most profitable.

The Allies have the first claim on German shipping. None others should be admitted until theirs is satisfied. In the armistice with Austria a surrender of the Austrian navy is provided for; and nothing less can be asked of Germany. But Germany has a large merchant marine partly interned in neutral countries, partly safe in her own ports, partly taken over by the Allied countries. In ordinary circumstances all her ships would be returned to her after the war, with payment for their use if they had been used, or for their purchase if it was desired to buy them. We have under the American flag a large German fleet for which Germany has the right to ask an equivalent in money. Without denying that right we shall have also a right to deduct from the debt full compensation for all the losses inflicted by Germany upon Allied commerce. All the Allied nations will have the same right. It may be that the German tonnage now in Allied or neutral hands will not suffice to pay the bill.

Everyday Etiquette

"I have never known what is the proper thing to do when one is entertaining and a guest comes in late. Won't you please tell us," pleaded Mrs. Youngwife.

"If the guest is a woman, the hostess should rise and shake hands and receive apologies amiably. If the guest is a man she need not rise. The host, however, rises, comes forward, assists in seating the delinquent and endeavors, by making general conversation, to distract attention from the incident. The guest is expected to take up the dinner at the point where he arrived," said her aunt.

MOTORAIDS

The motorcycle with the sidecar attachment is coming into great popularity since the war began, as it has proven such a great convenience in army camps and about military offices.

Most dealers at present sell motorcycles on the installment plan, so that many who could not otherwise afford a motor vehicle, are able to indulge in a motor cycle. For many a workman they save car fare in going to and from work, and, when employment is away from a car line, the motor cycle is invaluable. It is always available, too, and will work all day Sunday just as well as on the other six days of the week.

Their consumption of gasoline is small and no garage expense is needed to stable such a steed. They will travel anywhere and on many roads that a motor car would not attempt, owing to its size.

Fair Warning.

Bob's brother, seeking revenge, had put grass in his sister's slippers after they had been cleaned. Later in the afternoon Bob discovered the mischief and as his sister was about to put on the slippers he came swiftly running toward her, crying out as he did so: "Don't put them on. There's a bird's nest inside and you'll kill the young ones!"

"THE WIFE"

By JANE PHELPS

BRIAN REMAINS OUT ALL NIGHT. RUTH IS ANXIOUS.

CHAPTER XCIV.

Breakfast time came and yet Brian had not returned. Ruth drank some strong coffee and made ready for the office. Had something happened to Brian, or— Once the thought came to her that she would call Mrs. Curtis, get Mollie King's address, and call her and ask if she knew where Brian was. But her pride intervened. If he should be—if he had remained out with her so late that he thought best to go to some down town hotel instead of coming home, Ruth would only have humbled herself unnecessarily. Or if Mollie had not seen him and Brian was with someone elese, she would have let Mollie see her anxiety and that would be almost as bad.

Ruth looked so pale and worried when she reached the store that Mandel, the moment he had welcomed her back, asked if she were ill. He had not mentioned the business upon which she had been engaged. Her appearance alarmed him.

"No, I am not ill. I didn't sleep well," she could not avoid contrasting his very evident regard for her with Brian's seeming carelessness. He looked anxious, too. His voice had held real concern. It made Brian's affection the more glaring.

That noon she went home during the lunch hour something she never did. She thought—hoped—there might be some word of Brian. But although she pocketed her pride and questioned Rachel, there was nothing.

Should she call his office? Her pride said "no," her anxiety "yes." There were many accidents in New York streets, due to careless driving of motor cars and other causes. Brian might have been hurt. She called his office, unable to endure the thought. He might even then be lying in some hospital.

"No, Mr. Hackett went out about half an hour ago. Who shall I tell him called?"

"Never mind, I'll call again." Ruth had no need to try to disguise her voice. No one would have recognized it. She started back to the shop, quivering in every nerve, angry, anxious, undetermined what to do—what attitude to take toward him when he came home.

"Perhaps I've been too lenient. Too easy," she said to herself as she hurried back to her work. She again had been unable to eat, and had only taken a cup of strong tea. Every nerve in her body was aquiver with her emotion. Yet she could not decide what to do. Finally she made up her mind that for once she would question Brian. He must tell her where he had been and with whom. Then she thought: "He may not come up to the apartment again tonight. He doesn't know I am at home." And acting upon impulse she stopped in a public telephone booth and again called the office. Brian had not yet returned, but she left word to tell him that his wife was at home. The girl promised to tell him as soon as he came in.

In a measure relieved, Ruth continued on her way to the store. All the afternoon Mandel watched her closely, and was unusually thoughtful, even for him. Ruth appreciated his care for her as never before. The difference between his anxious care and Brian's indifference, hurt her, yet she was soothed that SOMEONE thought of her, even if Brian didn't.

"You'd better stop for the day," Mandel said to her about half past four. "My car is at the door. I shall not need it for another hour. My chauffeur will take you home. Let him drive you through the park. It will do you good."

Ruth often had refused to use her employer's car. But she was almost distraught over Brian's absence the night before. It would do her good to take a drive in the park. She perhaps could think things out better there where everything was so peaceful and quiet.

She thanked Mandel, and he looked so pleased when she accepted his offer, that she almost changed her mind. But the prospect was too tempting, so she allowed him to assist her into the car and nodded assent when he said to the chauffeur: "Take Mrs. Hackett home. Go through the park. I shall not need you for an hour or more," then he turned to Ruth: "Unless you feel perfectly all right, don't try to work tomorrow. You look really ill."

Tears stood in Ruth's eyes. His kindness had touched her. She was weak from her long fast, in addition to her worry. She brushed them quickly away, but not before he had seen them and speculated upon their cause.

But before she had been riding long, she recovered her poise. She must not let Brian see her with red eyes. So she leaned back in the luxurious car, and really felt almost like herself again when the chauffeur turned into her street.

As he drew up to the curb in front of the apartment, Brian rounded the corner. When she stepped out, he was almost at the door. He stopped in amazement. Then a sarcastic smile curled his lips as he turned and assisted her from the car, saying:

"The telephone operator told me you were at home so I came early."

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Noah's Ark a Good Model.

A good word for Noah's prescience as a shipbuilder is found in an allusion to his ark in "Nauticus." "It would not be a difficult task," says that journal, "to pick out of Lloyd's Register many ships built within the last twenty years whose dimensions suggest a form closely resembling that of Noah's ark. According to the dimensions given in the Bible as translated in terms of modern measurement, the ark was 480 feet long, 80 feet wide, and 48 feet deep. Her tonnage was 11,413, and she had plenty of room for pairs of all the distinct species of animals that are classed by Buffon—244—and she could have accommodated a thousand persons and then had plenty of room for the storage of supplies."

CONGREGATIONAL DINNER IS MOST ENJOYABLE EVENT

A Harvest Home idea prevailed in the decorations at the congregational dinner which was held at Trinity church, Wednesday night.

The three long tables were centered by miniature corn shocks, about which were placed small pumpkins and golden ears of corn.

One hundred and ninety persons were present, and most of them were seated at once about the tables, where a very bountiful and delicious dinner, prepared by the women of the congregation, was served.

There was no program of speecehes, the evening being passed by the members of the congregation in visiting with each other.

Two charming little girls, Clara and Betty Clevenger, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clevenger of Dayton, delighted the gathering with their musical performance. The children, the elder of whom is eight and the younger six years of age, are regarded as prodigies in a musical way. Both play the piano with great skill. The younger child has been taking lessons since she was four and a half years of age, and she reads music fluently and plays with much skill. She learns very rapidly, and in her own words, plays "grown up music."

The precocious little ones received much attention from their audience.

Rev. and Mrs. George Vorhis of Springfield, were among the guests at the dinner.

Cave Dwellers in France.

In prehistoric times, when man had to fight with wild beasts not only for food but for life, he found a welcome refuge in grottoes and caverns. But as soon as humanity had achieved some degree of progress in civilization our ancestors forsook these primitive natural shelters for more comfortable dwellings. Our readers, therefore, remarks the Scientific American, doubtless imagine that the troglodyte ceased to exist many centuries ago, at any rate in Europe. Yet even today there may be found Frenchmen who live underground only a few hundred kilometers from Paris.

This photo gives a good idea of the condition of the German troops just before hostilities ceased. BIBLE CONFERENCE OPENS AT REFORMED CHURCH WEDNESDAY

The Bible Conference at the First Reformed church opened Wednesday evening. Rev. George E. Guille, of the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, led in a study of the Exaltation of Jesus. He gave a beautiful exposition of the opening chapter of the Book of Hebrews, showing how the Savior "finished the work which the Father had given Him to do." Those present were wonderfully happy in this beautiful study. The service this evening will be at 7:30. A welcome to all. Come and bring your friends—and bring your Bibles.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR W. THOMAS LITTLE

On Friday evening, Nov. 22, at 7:30 o'clock, a memorial service will be held in the chapel of the theological seminary for Mr. W. Thomas Little, who died on October 1, from wounds received in action in the Argonne region in France.

Brief addresses will be made by classmates and friends of Mr. Little, at the conclusion of which his portrait will be thrown upon a screen and "taps" will be sounded by the bugler of the Home cadets. It is desired that all friends and former acquaintances of the brave soldier boy who has given his life to the great cause, attend.

Peppercorns and India.

The rise in the prices of spices recalls that it was a similar attempt in the time of Queen Elizabeth, says the London Chronicle, which led to the establishment of the British empire in India. The Dutch then held the monopoly of trade with India. At one fell swoop they raised the price of pepper from 3s to 6s a pound. Thereupon a meeting of merchants in London was called to protest against "the most unchristian price of pepper," with the result that there was formed in 1599 the famous old East India company which from supplying English cruets with pepper passed insensibly to the conquest and government of a sub-continent.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. HEARD FROM OUR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS

Mrs. Jacob Diehl, of Yellow Springs, received the following letter from her son Jacob, who is now at Camp Taylor, Ky.

Camp Taylor, Ky., Oct. 26, 1918.

Dear Mother: Its drizzling rain this afternoon and as its rather dead around here will send you a few lines. Have been wondering for several days if the "flu" has hit Yellow Springs. It sure is prevalent in Kentucky and especially at Camp Taylor. However the authorities are getting it well under control and every one believes it will only be a short time until it will be entirely eliminated, at least we all hope so.

I have been working in a ward about a week where we have about 81 patients. The majority of them have the "flu" but the nurse said this morning they were all recovering nicely and would soon be turned out. It isn't the most pleasant place to work for the first few days but after that we get used to hearing their troubles and enjoy waiting on them.

Just happened to run across Edgar Brown the other night. He has been transferred from the Sixth Co. to the Field Artillery and expects to go across soon. He was feeling fine and we enjoyed a few minutes conversation very much.

Army life seems to be quite the right thing for me, as I am feeling fine, eating three square meals a day and gaining flesh all the time. It is surprising how good the eats are as it looks almost impossible to feed such a large body of men, but Uncle Sam has system thoroughly enforced and is able to carry out many big ventures. In fact none are too big for Uncle Sam.

Camp Taylor extends over a large area and covers hundreds of acres of good Kentucky soil which might raise corn were it not for the Camp. I am informed the soldiers here number about 60,000 at this time including colored troops and the Officers Training Camp, which is within itself a big institution. Officers at the rate of 500 are graduated from the school every two weeks and more are coming in all the time.

The Camp is beautifully located about six miles south east of Louisville, about a thirty minute ride on the street car and about twenty minutes by jitney. The jitneys are not so well patronized the last few weeks, as only a certain per cent can go to Louisville on account of the epidemic. But no more for now as I must work a while. Don't forget to write me when you have a few spare moments.

Requires No Sugar

Whenever you eat anything that is "naturally" sweet, thereby saving the use of sugar you are helping just that much.

Most prepared cereals require some additional sweetening. Grape-Nuts requires none for it contains a considerable amount of its own,—not "put there" in its making but developed by the famous Grape-Nuts method of baking, from the grains of which this food is made.

COLONEL BOMFORD IS DEAD OF PNEUMONIA

Col. George M. Bomford, who was for a time commandant of Wilbur Wright Aviation Field, and who was known to local people, died of pneumonia in France, six weeks ago.

His name was carried in Wednesday's casualty list. Col. Bomford's family had been living in Dayton since he went overseas.

FICTURE OF WILLIAM OVERHOLSER PUBLISHED

In a recent issue of the Club Woman's Magazine was a splendid picture of Sergt. William D. Overholser of Alpha, who is now in France.

He is the nephew of Mrs. Agnes C. Nichols of this city. The item was as follows:

"Sergeant Overholser, a Greene county boy, in a recent letter to his mother, Mrs. Juniata Overholser, states that he is over one hundred miles from the fighting line in France. He is satisfied with his surroundings and cheerfully accepts discipline, although he is a favorite at home with his aunts, Mrs. Agnes C. Nichols of Xenia, Ohio, and Mrs. M. B. Corwin of Cincinnati. William is the only soldier representative of the three families."

GIRLS! THICKEN AND BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

Try this! Your hair gets wavy, glossy and abundant at ounce.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpesive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now for a few cents—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this. adv

With the war practically over and with Prohibition—State and National—a certainty, it is truly a time for thanksgiving. God reigns and the autocracy of oppression and murder, and the autocracy of alcohol, are in ruins. It is going to be a better and a happier world. Christianity and civilization have won the greatest victories of all times. Good people everywhere rejoice over the double achievement. Let right thinking people see to it that the world remains safe for democracy and that democracy be made safe by being made permanently sober. Now is the time to keep our feet firmly on the ground. The danger has not passed. There are trying days ahead, as these twin forces of evil will make desperate efforts to wrest power from the victors and neutralize the results which have been secured. Eternal vigilance is necessary to make victory lasting.—The American Issue.

GAS SUPPLY IN STATE RAPIDLY BECOMING ACUTE

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 21—The natural gas situation in Ohio is rapidly becoming acute. The supply does not promise to be sufficient for the needs of the state, and householders who are depending upon it for heat are warned by the United States Fuel Administration for Ohio that when cold weather comes only the most rigid measures of conservation will insure anything like comfort.

Causes contributory to this are many. Few natural gas wells have been drilled in the last year, and more than the usual percentage have either failed altogether or decreased in the amount supplied. Whereas it has always been the custom heretofore to shut off a number of wells in the summer, and thus permit the gas supply to accumulate in the natural reservoirs, gas has been so greatly in demand that last summer this was not done, and there is no reserve supply for the larger consumption of cold weather.

Some localities have already taken steps to protect the domestic consumers, who in this fuel have the preference. Dayton has notified classes four and five that they cannot depend on natural gas, and announced that preference will be given consumers in private homes, hospitals, charitable institutions, hotels, bakeries and restaurants.

Other cities of the state have received the same notification, and in at least one of them the gas company has announced a total suspension of its service.

Unfortunately the extreme cold weather causes every one to turn on all the gas possible, with the result that there is not enough for anyone. Over against this is the fact that many homes especially are equipped to burn either gas or coal, and if the people so situated will use their coal heaters in cold weather, depending upon gas only for cooking, some relief will be obtained.

BLUEJACKETS TO BE MUSTERED OUT

Chicago, Nov. 21.—The first step toward mustering out bluejackets at Great Lakes Naval Training Station, were being taken today.

Captain Moffett said he construed orders from Secretary Daniels to mean that the men with dependents or business interests are to be given priority in release.

POLICE COURT

Richard Jones, colored, appeared before Police Judge Smith, Thursday morning, and entered a plea of guilty to a charge of drunk and disorderly. The judge handed him a fine of $25 and costs and ten days in the workhouse. He is now registered at the "Hotel de Horn."

Henry Proctor, who confessed Wednesday to the theft of 29 boxes of cigars from Mullen's cigar store, where he was temporarily employed as porter, was arrainged before Police Judge Smith on a charge of grand larceny and was bound over to the grand jury under bond of $500. Richard Dengess, proprietor of a restaurant at the Pennsylvania depot, who bought the cigars from Proctor, will return them to the owner. Before he was taken to the county jail, Proctor, who had been in the reformatory several times, remarked to Chief Canaday, "Well, Chief, I guess I will go to the pen and serve a few years, and when I get out I hope the city will be rid of you, so I can come back here and live in peace."

CONCRETE SHIP ARRIVES.

New York, Nov. 21.—The concrete steamship, Faith, the first of its kind to enter the port of New York, arrived here today with a cargo of sugar from Cuba.

HOW A SALESMAN SUFFERED

R. J. Porter, Sterling, Col., writes: "I suffered with a painful, weak back. As a traveling salesman I had to stoop frequently to pick up my grips, and the pain when I straightened up was awful. I was induced to try Foley Kidney Pills. Relief was immediate. Say, they are great." Prompt and tonic. Sayre & Hemphill. adv

ONE DOSE RELIEVES A COLD-NO QUININE

"Pape's Cold Compound" ends bad colds or grippe in a few hours.

Relief comes instantly.

A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end grippe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness, and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed up! Quit blowing and snuffling! Ease your throbbing head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only a few cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconveniences. Be sure you get the genuine.

Pleasant Old Age.

What blessings are these—that the soul having served its time, so to speak, in the campaigns of desire and ambition, rivalry and hatred, and all the passions, should live in its own thoughts and, as the expression goes, should dwell apart. PUBLIC SALES

Have your sale announced FREE in this column early, so that you may claim your date and others will stay off of it. These ads are run every day and are gratis with the large display advertising. We also furnish sale bills without charge. Let us tell you about it.

PUBLIC SALE—Saturday, November 23rd, at 10 a. m., at the Fifer Livery Barn, No. 30 East Second street, my entire livery outfit, of 15 horses, 20 buggies, 4 surries, three phaetons, 4 spring wagons, 4 coaches, 1 picnic wagon, three sleighs, 28 sets harness, Overland touring car, Ford touring car, 15 tons hay, 10 tons straw, 100 bushels oats, 50 bushels corn, etc. R. R. Grieve, Auctioneer.
N. C. J. A. FIFER.

PUBLIC SALE advertising in the Gazette and Republican bring the crowds. In the days of automobiles, the farmer has no time to stop along the road to read sale bills. He is coming to depend upon these papers to notify him of the sale dates and articles to be offered for sale. It's the buyer from a distance who sees your ad in this paper, who jumps into his auto and hustles to your sale, who pays what your stuff is worth. Your neighbor no longer can stand around and pick off what he needs at an absurd price, as he does when you have not properly advertised, and gotten a good crowd. Use the Gazette and Republican if you want the worth of everything you offer. Don't try to save on your advertising tf

Avoid Unprofitable Moods.

Angry moods and "grouches" and their twin sisters, "grudges," serve absolutely no purpose. If some one hurts or wounds us generously forget it. Time heals the deepest cuts and makes us braver and wiser for the experience. Let us love life and its worth-while things and avoid all unprofitable moods. Otherwise happiness will never come our way, and if we search for it, it will flee from us like a phantom, for after all it is the state of our mind.

EAST END NEWS

Keep in mind the special services at Third Baptist church this coming Sabbath. Among the special features of the services will be Prof. Wm. Nix, of Chicago, Ill., a gospel singer of National reputation, who will conduct the special song service, as well as render several of his special selections. Prof. Nix is no stranger to the people of Xenia, and vicinity, having visited this city before, and charmed large audiences. You cannot afford to miss hearing him.

One of the many improvements made in East Hi is the library, which enables the students to keep in touch with important affairs, both local and general.

The students must have the literature which puts them in touch with the higher things of life. It takes money to buy tis literature and the students of the school have arranged a musical program, "The Songs of the Allies," and a pageant, "The Spirit of Democracy," for the benefit of the Library, to be given Monday night, November 25, at Zion Baptist Church.

Mrs. A. L. Cosby is attending the Baptist state convention in Dayton, Ohio, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hamilton, son and daughter-in-law of Mrs. T. A. Glym are rejoicing over the arrival of a ten pound baby boy born on Tuesday night, Nov 19th. Mother and son are getting along nicely.

Because of the non-arrival of Evangelist Howard, the revival services at St. John's A. M. E. church will discontinued for the present.

The Sunday school Board of St. John's A. M. E. church will meet at the residence of Supt. James H. Peters, Friday evening instead of Thursday evening as announced.

Elmer Holten is reported to be dangerously ill with pneumonia at his home in Columbus, Ohio. He had the influenza and went to work too soon thereafter and suffered a relapse. His recovery is despaired of.

Xenia Commandery No. 8 K. T., will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock. All fraters are urged to be present. By order of Geo. T. Simpson, E. C. D. J. Galloway, Secretary.

Miss Emma Bass died last night at 11:57 at the home of her mother, Mrs. Orlando Bass on East Market street, following an illness of about six weeks with pneumonia. She would have been thirty years old next Tuesday, Nov. 26th. She was a member of the A. M. E. church at Washington, C. H. Beside her mother, she leaves two brothers, Harry Bass with the American Expeditionary forces in France, and Hurley Bass of London, Ohio, four sisters, Mrs. J. A. McGinnis of Chillicothe, Mrs. Nellie Lewis, Misses Daisy and Opal Bass of this city. The family has lived here about two years, coming from Washington, C. H. The remains will be taken to Washington, C. H. for burial.

BRIDE-ELECT GIVEN A KITCHEN SHOWER

Miss Mabel Shaw, a bride-elect, was guest of honor at a kitchen shower at which the girls of the K. A. club were hostesses, at the home of Miss Leola Lattimer, on Bellbrook avenue, Wednesday evening.

The colors for the evening were pink and white, and a delicious little two-course supper was served at a table lighted with pink and white candles and beneath a canopy of pink and white crepe paper. The place cards were decorated with tiny umbrellas.

The gifts intended for Miss Shaw were carried into the room in a huge basket, which was decorated in pink and white.

The girls spent the rest of the evening with music and dancing.

The K. A. club is composed of girls from the Citizen's Telephone Exchange, where Miss Shaw is employed. Other geusts were Miss Elizabeth Leahey and Miss Katherine Ryan.

STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Relieves Head-Colds at Once.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head soothing and healing the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief.

Ah! how good it feels. Your nostrils are open, your head is clear, no more hawking, snuffling, blowing; no more headache, dryness or struggling for breath. Ely's Cream Balm is just what sufferers from head colds and catarrh need. It's a delight.

MEN NOW AT CAMP SHERMAN WILL NOT BE SENT OVERSEAS

CAMP SHERMAN, O., Nov. 21.—An order cancelling all previous orders for the transportation of troops now in training to overseas duty was received at camp headquarters yesterday and cast a pall of gloom over men of the Ninety-fifth division now in training here. This division under orders previously issued, was to have left for a port of embarkation Nov. 20, and training had been speeded up with this in view.

Orders amplifying others that were previously given out were received and under these only men who voluntarily enlisted "to serve during the emergency, or who were drafted or inducted to serve during the emergency shall be discharged."

"No man," the order continues, shall be discharged until the report of his physical examination has been completed." Officers holding temporary commissions and who hold no regular army commission are to be discharged as rapidly "as the interests of the service permit." camp authorities were informed by the war department today. Officers in this class desiring immediate and complete release are to be discharged first, followed by those desiring prompt release and commissions in the reserve army corps. Those desiring commissions in the regular army are to be held until the last.

MOVEMENT TO OPEN Y. M. C. A. IN XENIA IS BEING REVIVED

A movement to open the Y. M. C. A. in Xenia was launched at a meeting of the Board of Managers of the Xenia Business Men's association held Wednesday afternoon. At this meeting Mr. Jno. R. Patterson, superintendent of public schools, and two high school boys were present and brought up the subject. Mr. Patterson stated that he had prohibited the boys frequenting the poolrooms and had taken action to enforce the rule. He said that the question now arises among the boys "Where do we go from here" and is anxious that a place with proper surroundings be provided for them. He suggested that a High School boys Y. M. C. A. supervised by teachers be provided through the co-operation of the Business club and the school authorities. Marion Evler, spokesman for the boys, stated that such an arrangement would be agreeable to the boys, and he very ably presented the need for some sort of a meeting place for boys.

The proposition to re-open the Y. M. C. A. was suggested by a member of the Business club board, and it was the unanimous opinion that an effort should be made to revive this institution in Xenia. It is probable that a plan may be devised to build up the Y. M. C. A. by degrees, using the high school boy's Y. M. C. A. as a nucleus.

RED CROSS ELECTS NEW DIRECTORS FOR THE COMING YEAR

The Greene County Chapter of the American Red Cross held a meeting, Wednesday evening, at the Xenia Business Men's club, at which time directors of the chapter were elected for the coming year.

At a meeting held last week a nominating committee was named. This committee reported its nominations at the Wednesday evening meeting, and the directors nominated were elected by unanimous vote.

They are as follows:

Silvercreek Chapter, Dr. Owen.
Ross Township Chapter, G. W. Glass.

XENIA CITY HAS ONLY $374.97 MORE TO RAISE IN DRIVE

Xenia city is now ready to go over the top in the United War work fund. The official figures given out by the treasurer Thursday morning show that the city is within $374.97 of the goal. The total subscription of the city today is exactly $12,126.03.

A meeting of the precinct captains has been called for this Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at which time plans will be made to raise the balance needed. If possible the city will try to raise an average $1,000 in order to take care of any shortage that may exist in any of the county precincts. In the Red Cross drive the city subscribed $13,231.40. The United War Work committee would like to make this War Work fund the largest free will offering ever made in the city by exceeding that amount.

CREEL IS GOING OVER.

Washington, Nov. 21.—"The freest and fullest flow of news," as to the peace conference, will be facilitated by George Creel, chairman, and other members of the committee on public information, going abroad.

Creel gave this assurance today in reply to congressional intimations that the cables were taken over to give the government a censorship control of peace conference news.

MEDAL FOR ITALIAN KING.

Rome, Nov. 21.—King Victor Emanuel has awarded the military medal to Rosetti Paolucci, who fired the torpedo that sunk the Austrian dreadnaught, Viribus Unitis.

RESULTS ALONE COUNT

What is said below by worth-while men—Bankers and Live-stock Experts —is said about Results, not Prospects

"Passed by the Capital Issues Committee as not incompatible with the national interests, but without approval of legality, validity, worth or security. Opinion No. A-434."

J. J. Logan, President of The United States Trust & Savings Bank, of Jacksonville, Fla., says:

"When one farm wins the President's cup and two other important cups, bronze medal and seventeen ribbons at the Florida State Fair, we think it is time for his friends to offer congratulations.

I had been over your farm before the Fair opened and I knew you would make an excellent showing and give any of your competitors a stiff battle, but I believe that you have made bigger winnings than any individual or any farm has ever made at any Fair held in this State.

As one of the members of the Executive Committee of the State Fair, I want to say that I think you are entitled to the victory because you have done such a very great deal to develop the hog and cattle industry in this State and your good example will bear fruit year after year.

At the present rate of progress, Florida is going to be the biggest hog and cattle State in the Union, and I predict that when this time comes, you will still be winning cups and ribbons."

H. B. Minium, for Eleven Years State Superintendent of Armour & Co., with Headquarters at Jacksonville, Fla., says:

"There has been such marked improvement all around since I was down there one year ago that I would hardly have recognized the place. I feel that you have an opportunity of making a great success in farming and live stock raising and that your success in your Clay County venture will mean more to the general development of farming and live stock raising in Florida than any other single factor. I regard your farms as a sort of demonstration farms, showing what can be done in Florida in the way of general farming and live stock raising, and, with your permission, I am going to encourage as many of our Florida farmers and stock raisers as possible, as well as prospective investors, to visit your farms and see for themselves just what can be done."

Bion H. Barnett, President of The Barnett National Bank, of Jacksonville, Fla., says:

"Please accept my heartiest congratulations on the splendid exhibit of cattle and hogs made by you at the Florida State Fair, and the success achieved in winning the President's Cup and other valuable trophies. My personal inspection of your farms has shown me that you were entitled to the victory because the exhibit at the State Fair is truly representative of the cattle and hogs on the farms.

I feel that you are entitled to a world of credit, and as we are deeply interested in the progress of the State, I feel it a duty to send you a word of congratulation."

The Columbus (Ohio) "Dispatch" says, in a Special Feature Article From Jacksonville, Fla.:

"While there have been cattle on 1,000 hills and roaming over the 50,000 square miles of plains in Florida from time immemorial, and while hogs have been raised ever since DeSoto landed at Tampa Bay with 500 pigs nearly 400 years ago, it remained for an Ohio man to discover the real live stock potentialities of this State.

And, compared with the discovery and exploitation of the health-giving climate of Florida by the railroad building genius, Flagler, or with the discovery of the food and tonic values of grapefruit by Mrs. Frank Leslie, of publishing fame, that of the undeveloped live stock possibilities of this State by R. L. Dollings, of Ohio, must be admitted to have a greater capacity for usefulness."

Jay R. Brown, Secretary of The Illinois Live Stock Association, said, in an Address at the Ohio State University:

"I recently returned from the Southeast, where I made a study of live stock production, which is being carried on in the most economical manner that I have found anywhere in the United States. . . . The South and Southeastern country will be a breeding ground to which we of the North will look for our feeders. They will fatten a fair percentage of their output, and sell the balance in the North as feeders. Along with it, they will develop the velvet-bean meal business to an extent which will likely substitute in no small measure the present business of cotton-seed meal manufacture and sale. The big interests of the North have had their eyes on the Southeastern country for a long time."

Ed. S. Foust, of Xenia, O., Breeder of the Grand Champion Duroc Boar of the United States, says:

"Before I leave for my home in Ohio, I feel it my duty to tell you what I think of the Walkill Farms. As you know, I came here two years ago, and this visit is the first time I have returned to see the property. The development is marvelous; I would not have believed it had I not seen it with my own eyes.

I am a farmer in Ohio—have 300 acres—and I flatter myself that I know something about hogs, having bred the Grand Champion Duroc Boar of the United States; and you turned me loose on the farms and told me to go and look them over with the hog men and the cattle men and the farmers, and I want to say to you that I never saw better corn, and the hogs that you have on the place would do credit to any farm in the North.

The whole State is on fire, and it is very evident that Florida will swing into the line as one of the largest producing States in the Union in cattle and hogs. You started it all and you are reaping the reward."

Final Offering of the 7% Full Participating Preferred Stock of The Walkill Stock Farms Co.

To pay the 7% to the Preferred Stockholders requires an earning of only $2.00 an acre and to pay the 7% to both the PREFERRED and the COMMON STOCKHOLDERS requires an earning of only $3.00 an acre; and the man who THINKS will understand what this PARTICIPATING feature means.

There are one hundred good farmers in every county in Ohio who can take this fertile 14,000 acre farm, with the long pasture season (practically eleven months), the ability of the farm to produce good corn and cheap ensilage and other forage crops with which to feed Cattle, Hogs and Sheep, and earn $10.00 an acre and not regard that as the maximum by any manner of means.

There is one sure way to share in the profits of the most tremendous Live Stock development that has ever taken place in this country and which is going on today in the South, and that is to buy a PARTICIPATING PREFERRED STOCK, backed by Land, Cattle, Hogs and Sheep. Most of the WALKILL PREFERRED STOCK has been sold. If you are interested, write today.
